Update: London Event ...

From Lord Maitreya

First, let me say that it is a pleasure for me to give you a summary report on what took place on December 23 in London, where five Earth Advisors presented ourselves to a representative European group comprised mainly of political leaders. As at our first such appearance on December 9 in Egypt, the Earth Advisors included myself and two other members of the Community of Spiritual Masters, the Masters Yeshua and St. Germain, along with two representatives of our Off-Earth Allies, Ken'u from constellation Lyra and Sho from the Pleiades. The event was executed by a team of organizers who provided us with excellent support and put in place all that was needed to hold this event. We had some disappointments regarding the final guest list, but it is fair to say that we were greatly impressed by the willingness of so many of our VIP guests to take the time during the holiday season to break free and come to London to be with us. We appreciated this very much.

We were also greatly impressed by the willingness of the participants to speak openly and frankly in sharing their views. This allowed us to gain a fuller understanding of how tied some of these guests are to a specific line of approach for government planning and how they envision the future of European political leadership through individual leaders, political parties and philosophical movements.

It was clear that they are very proud of their successes following the terror of two world wars. Europe suffered much because of these wars and the post-war political leaders were determined to build a society that could eliminate any future such conflicts. New directions were needed and new policies were created to make sure that European leaders would never again resort to wars among themselves and to ensure that all of their citizens would be taken care of in a manner that civilized people should be grateful for.

As Earth Advisors, we cannot argue against this because it certainly is a break from the past where humans at the bottom of the social structure often suffered great indignities and were often left to defend themselves with no help from governments. All that has changed as society in Europe has evolved. European leaders proudly view all this as a great success and many consider their current structure to be a model system for other societies to emulate. But we have a bigger view of the future and thus we would like to see governments develop a plan that would more fully support rapid human evolution.

European leaders must now expand their vision. In addition to caring for the physical needs of people, it is time to ponder what requirements are necessary to clear the path so that everyone's individual needs are met and they are free to develop spiritually in whatever way they choose. This is what political leaders in Europe and the rest of the world must come to understand.

We can look at the former Soviet Union whose leaders were very focused on taking care of the Russian people in a new way. There was a great effort to see that no starvation existed and that everyone had the necessary housing and other support from a government that took care of their physical needs. In the end, that society failed to understand that meeting the needs of the physical body was not enough. People were starving for freedom to be able to move forward on their individual spiritual paths, however they may envision those paths.

Humans are curious. They want to experiment and understand the world around them in all its dimensions, including the spiritual. In understanding the physical world and expressing their inherent creativity, they experience the critical expansion of consciousness that feeds the human soul, creates an individual who is well-rounded, feels great satisfaction and ultimately senses what people call God.

An individual cut off from this expanding consciousness senses imprisonment, dissatisfaction and depression. Thus, as humanity transitions to greater accomplishments, building new cultures and new civilizations at a much higher level than anything previously known, they cannot continue on the old path with old ideas. Simply caring for the physical forms is no longer enough. What humans need now more than anything else is freedom of expression and the opportunity to develop the creativity that will enable them to experience their inherent divinity.

All of humanity cries out for opportunities, for freedom of expression and for the environment that allows mind and soul to work in harmony, to expand individual consciousness, to seek greater understanding of the world they live in and thus understand more fully who they are as incarnate human beings.

We suggested that our London guests take another look at their plans for the future of Europe, look again at what they may have forgotten to include in their plans. Is there true freedom? Or are democracy and national cultures being diminished in favor of imposed uniformity? Do the people have freedom to build their own cultures? Do they have freedom to think differently than the united political plan being presented to them? Since all cultures are not the same, any plan must be flexible enough to allow choices.

Humans need space to experiment, space to learn the quality of their own soul, space to develop and evolve their own cultures. The German culture is not the same as the French or English culture. There should be no attempt to homogenize these cultural qualities since that would only lead to chaos and disaster. Individuals will reject any such homogenization. Humanity and humanity's leaders are still struggling to understand who they are and what their purpose in this physical world is. All this must change.

If leaders do not understand the soul of their people and the need of their people for soul enrichment, how can they build a new culture that will give the human soul what it requires? How will these leaders build a society that will show all of humanity the purpose of being human on this planet?

It is not going to be easy to become a leader in this world we are moving into. Unless political leaders become wise in the ways of understanding humanity and what humanity requires, they will be blocking the path for human evolution. As you can see, this was a discussion that our friends clearly did not expect to be involved with. As we unveiled bits and pieces of a new vision for planet Earth and especially for the human kingdom, our guests were not only surprised but deeply shocked. It will take time, without a doubt, for them to ponder our message.

As they ponder what we presented, they will eventually have many questions. Answering those questions will be a significant task for the five of us. We will work with all societies and all cultures and be boldly frank about the difficulties they all must face. The world is becoming more and more difficult to manage since human consciousness is expanding quickly and this expansion will pressure political leaders to understand what is happening. Many of them will be baffled after having given so much effort to help their people and then finding that the people are deeply dissatisfied. The populace in general will also be puzzled and confused. They will realize, however, that they are dissatisfied. They too will be looking for those people who have answers for them. This is the reason we advisors have come as a team and have come at this time.

We are here to help, to assist, to teach and advise the leaders of humanity on all levels to understand why it is that the people are feeling dissatisfied with their daily lives. We will attempt to explain that lifting of human consciousness is about expanding awareness of the world in all its dimensions, explain that each human will be eager to learn and understand, eager to express the intelligence and creativity that comes from the soul. Wisdom from the soul level can then be translated into an understanding of who they are and where their place is in this vast universe.

I do not wish to take this discussion too far, but I promise you all that as you begin to make this new path into your future more feasible and understandable, we Earth Advisors will do whatever we can to answer your questions.

We hope that humanity will call upon us for assistance. Unless humanity requests our assistance there is very little we can do. We only warn you that there is little time to make great changes in your lives. It is time to act. If not, then planet Earth itself, Mother Earth, will revolt against your complacency, for Mother Earth is changing and that change will not be stopped. The planet itself will convulse if humanity and nature take different paths and it will be humanity who suffers most. This is humanity's challenge and we are willing to offer our services and our experience with similar transitions to help you create a harmonious working relationship with Mother Nature so that this planet can quickly enter a golden age of enlightenment.

We are here. We intend to stay.

Maitreya

The Panelist Group ...

Welcome to the year 2014.

This is the year when we together – humanity, the Community of Spiritual Masters and the Off-Earth Allies – will lay the foundation for a long-ranging, sustaining partnership, one that will not crumble, one that we can each rely on and one that the human families throughout the cosmos can rely on as they welcome into their number the human family of Earth.

We envision 2014 as a year of challenge and as a year of joy, excitement and promise. The hope of a spiritual environment suitable for growth and expansion of consciousness is going to be laid and played out here in the year 2014. It is simply a fact that the vision for a new Earth, the vision for a new civilization will become real and not just something someone talks about. This will happen in 2014. And as this happens, the changes will ripple through humanity.

The vision of this new Earth is going to be welcomed by many and feared by just as many or more. This depends upon whether you focus on what you are losing or what you are gaining. Now, this vision will be met with hostility and scorn by those who do not wish to change, those who simply want the comfort of what was ... and that comfort is going away. In its place there is a momentous opportunity, a momentous adventure in store for the human family of Earth. And what the Earth Advisors are here to do and what we from behind the scenes are here to do is to calm the waters, calm the emotions and point out that humanity is in this boat as one human family.

We anticipate the beginnings of reconciliation between parties who have, even for centuries, been hostile to one another. And why is that? It is because truths that are known throughout the cosmos will begin to filter to Earth. Evidence that is acceptable to the scientific community of Earth will begin to emerge to support these truths. Disparate pieces of evidence that have been either ignored or disbelieved or outright hidden will begin to come forth.

And here we smile because humanity, with all its intellectual curiosity and its yearning for proof that speaks to the heart and to the mind, humanity at its best will begin putting all these pieces together and come out with the realization that indeed there is no going back. There is only going forward, because the foundational truths upon which have been built the science, the philosophy, the religion, the economy, the social sciences have changed. The foundation has changed because there is information coming through and as these dots are connected, the new picture emerges.

At that point, humanity will begin to see which institutions must simply be dismantled as they have outlived their usefulness, which institutions must change to reflect the reality that is now quite plain and evident and which institutions must prepare to change because it begins to look like what they have based themselves on is indeed going to shift out from under their feet. These changes will be the equivalent of an earthquake and as you know, earthquakes come in various magnitudes.

Some people who live in earthquake prone zones take minor shakes for granted. They are not alarmed. They accept them, they ride them out and go on with their lives. Some of the changes will be of that nature. "Yes," some people will say, "they are earthquake changes, but that's all right, we've been through that sort of thing before."

And some of these changes will be major earthquakes to the base that humanity has thought unquestionable.

The good news from our standpoint is that we have humanity's attention. And once we have humanity's attention, we can make it clear that we are here walking side-by-side, working with you hand-in-hand as you absorb this new information. We bring information and we can bring more information to make that first round of information become perfectly clear, but we cannot bring all the information at once for that would be too much to absorb.

So we will bring the first pieces of information forward and we will offer advice and guidance and moral support and healing. The healing is important. We will be there. We will be there in many ways. The Earth Advisors are there physically, the rest of us are here and on call. We will not desert you.

We will work with you directly and we will work with you by working through those among you who understand more of what is going on. Some understand more because they have been trained by us to become presenters and voices, others understand more because of their own inclination or because of their soul mission they have known and been prepared for these changes. They will be leaders among you with creative alternatives, with explanations, calming explanations of truths that at first seem horrendous and unbelievable. We will be here. We will work through those in humanity who are willing to work with us and we will be working directly with as many leaders of humanity as it is possible.

2014 is a year of direction change.

Now, will everyone change at once? Of course not. But the vanguard will begin the change, the substantive change. The institutions of humanity will all be subject to evaluation. Will they all be evaluated in 2014? Of course not. But we would like to alert you to the fact that in the next few years, all institutions will be analyzed and assessed by you and we will work with you. The joy and beauty of the results will be astonishing as the humanity of Earth realizes its own depth and strength and beauty, and as the humanity of Earth realizes that they are indeed the human family of Earth, and that the human family is One.

If these changes take hold, we anticipate that more and more people will begin to see the needed changes in institutions from government to religion, to economies, to education, to rituals in the various cultures of Earth. This is the time of calm, creative faith and trust that this is simply a time of transition and that you are not alone.

With the Off-Earth Allies and the Community of Spiritual Masters, you have with you and at your disposal a virtual encyclopedia on how to manage this kind of change and this kind of transition. We are here. We are your friends, your cheering section, your elder brothers and sisters who are delighted that we will begin to work together in partnership ... and build indeed a new Earth.

Thank you.

Ken'u ...

The necessities of website production mean that I am dictating this when one of the major events of 2013 is yet to happen.

So I look forward to 2014 without having the full impact of the joy that we expect from the second event of 2013. The first event of 2013<sup>1</sup> went very, very well and at this writing we are still sorting out and supporting the forward progress of the post-event activities.

I'm sure you will hear that from others.

Based on that first welcome, what I can tell you is that in this coming year, my friend Sho from the Pleiades and I will be able to walk among you, to meet with some of you and to tell the stories that have been lost from human history, the stories of the friendship that once existed and was sustained between the human family of Earth and the other human families scattered across the cosmos. We will be able to tell you and bring you the news of these stories.

Now, we are not under the impression that the news we bring will be instantly accepted and promptly incorporated into your educational system, but what we do expect is that there will be meetings and talk and discussion and the foundation of the educational system is going to change. It is going to change as radically as the educational systems changed when Earth was no longer the center of the universe, when the Earth began to move around the Sun in the information that was given to scholars, and when the sun became not the center of the universe, but rather part of a much larger and vaster collection of stars and other stellar phenomena.

This change in the educational system, in the textbooks, in the mindsets, in the spirituality, in the church liturgies, all this will have the basic foundation of thought change laid down in this year and the year to follow. You see, it does take that long for this radical a change to be absorbed by a sufficient percentage of humanity that it becomes common knowledge, as common as the current knowledge that the sun rises in the east and sets in the west and that the Earth travels around the sun. But the day will come, that day will come.

There are other aspects of the educational systems that we anticipate will change, but they will not all change at once. You see, it is a long road from the mind to the heart or from the heart to the mind when it comes to accepting the fact that what you have been taught and believed and taken for granted for the entire of your life is proven to need changing. And this is just the first, and only one of the changes that humanity will face and contend with in this World Renaissance that is a transition to the new civilization, the new Earth.

<sup>1</sup> The first event of 2013 was in Egypt. The five on-site Earth Advisors, Lord Maitreya, Master Yeshua, Master St. Germain, Ken'u and Sho, spoke to an audience of about 3 dozen people who are in position to effect change and cooperation in that country.

I would simply like to remind you and assure you that you have friends among those of us who are considered to be the Off-Earth Allies. We have helped other civilizations through this kind of radical change and our own home societies, our own home cultures have been through this kind of sweeping change. So we have a great deal of experience to draw on to help you face, cope with, accept and move into the changes on your doorstep.

The truth of these far-reaching changes will begin to make itself evident in 2014. Humanity wants proof. And what is going to happen in 2014 is that those proofs will begin to appear and they will be quite upsetting to those who are quite comfortable with what they have learned and what they have believed in for the entire of their lives.

So in addition to the solace and the hope and the comfort that we intend to be at your side offering, we would ask those of you for whom this is not such radical news to be very loving and patient and understanding with those for whom this is an extremely traumatic change. It is our hope that we who are from off Earth will offer our services and that you who understand what's going on will also offer your services to your fellow human beings and that together we may bring forward those for whom this World Renaissance is a deep shock. We will work together in establishing a new normal, a new way of doing things that will quickly become the norm and the common understanding among those in the human family of Earth.

We are here. We are here to assist. We are here to help, we are here to offer information and guidance. We have been through this before. Please, let us be of all the assistance we can be as you move through this period of transition.

I thank you.

Master Kuthumi ...

This is obviously a very important topic for our readers. Many will want to know how the five Earth Advisors will emerge over the coming months and years. This is perhaps a little more complex than most people would think. It is complex because there are many issues involved that relate to what we can and cannot do.

We all know that humanity has free will and this we are careful not to tread upon. At the same time, there are many things that we would like to do in this emergence into the public eye and things can slow us down if humanity's free will begins to block our progress. First, in our role as Earth Advisors we need to be invited into the world of humanity. A significant portion of humanity needs to do this. This means allowing us to speak to you in a manner that demonstrates that we are truly here. Therefore, we must present ourselves in a manner where people can actually see us and relate to us in a way that has not been possible in the past.

Let me say it was not possible in the past because there were restrictions placed on how we could emerge, could come closer to humanity. Having said this, I believe it is obvious that we need a very new relationship with humanity and this we will carefully coordinate with our close human allies who have already invited us into their private lives. We very much depend upon these human allies who are already working in close cooperation with us. The WeSeekToServe team is one of our allied groups that we do already work with. In order for us to work closely with humanity in the coming year, we will depend upon our human allies to make a path for us to come forward.

We do need more help beyond simply being invited. We also need those humans who would be willing to work with us in full cooperation. In the future, as we begin to become better known to humanity, there will be many demands upon the time of those of us in the Community of Masters. We have already spoken of the five who will be on-site Earth Advisors, three from the Community of Masters, Lord Maitreya, Master Yeshua and Master St. Germain, and two of our Off-Earth Allies, Sho and Ken'u, who have volunteered to be with us as specialists for the period of transition we are entering can become dangerous.

It can be dangerous because so much is changing. This can cause chaos among some sectors of humanity who do not understand what is happening. This is one of the things we will work on with our human allies. Just as these messages through WeSeekToServe.com cover a number of topics, in the future, the WeSeekToServe messages will cover topics such as why are we here at this specific time in Earth history, how the Earth Advisors will relate to humanity, how we will speak to humanity directly. Will it be one-on-one or through groups? How will communications be handled? There are few Advisors available compared with the billions of humans who have curious minds and many questions. Therefore, a way must be found to present the basic material to humanity for their consideration. At the same time, we will work, if necessary, one-on-one with world leaders who need advice on how to deal with current-day human problems.

The Earth Advisors will offer advice that is most timely and will offer humanity choices. We are not here to act as dictators to humanity. We wish to point out the dangers on the path we are about to jointly trod and we wish to offer suggestions on how to avoid bumps in the road. How do we avoid being blocked on our path together? Humanity will have many decisions to make on this road to a new golden age. This period we are transitioning into is mainly about individuals and groups discovering their higher qualities. Not just discovering them but figuring out how to act in a manner to best share this planet with all other individuals and groups and how to do it in a way that does not hinder the spiritual evolution of anyone.

This essentially is the goal. How to lead humanity to a point where each human soul on this planet has opportunities to move forward on their spiritual path unobstructed and to move on that path as quickly as they are willing to go is the goal. More than this at this time need not be said because we will continue to provide more information through our human allies. Thank you for taking this message seriously.

Kuthumi

Consciousness Expansion Leadership Team ...

Editor's Note:

Members of the Consciousness Expansion Leadership Team (CELT) are Maitreya, Anubis, Osiris and Ondru. As the name implies, this is the team who leads the Community of Masters and the Off-Earth Allies for the purpose of expanding humanity's consciousness.

Information about Maitreya is available on WeSeekToServe.com in the Community of Masters section. Information about Anubis and Osiris is available in the Off-Earth Allies section.

Ondru was, for some time, a member of Earth's Community of Spiritual Masters. When he reached his personal point of decision, he chose to continue his spiritual advancement on Sirius. However, as it became evident that assistance was needed here on Earth, he felt that that he had perhaps been premature in leaving at a time when he could be of use to this planet. He was granted permission to return by those who have a say on such matters and he is here now.

We will focus on emergence events and emergence progress in 2014, but there is much else going on in the world. We will speak to objectives – humanity's objectives and anticipated progress in 2014.

The time draws nigh where we must address our hopes and plans for 2014 and see how things fall into place with humanity's progress. Revising the manner in which those from our dimension will work with humanity has been our primary objective. Those who are emerging and those who are not will all be working with humanity and without an effective working relationship we cannot go very far in helping humanity gain the upper hand. To date, those who are emerging have yet to make a substantial appearance with the governing bodies of Earth, but before this year ends, we hope that will be a circumstance of success. Once this plan is put into action, we have many other objectives of the ensuing level to manifest.

Firstly, there is the situation of spreading the word of our involvement with humanity. This is a very big task, a task that in any time or place would present a challenge. We have many plans in place for events in various parts of the world with various leaders until such time as we feel that the tipping point of informing these leaders can expand to a project of informing the general public about us and our relationship with humanity as teachers, advisors and guides – whether we are emerged or not emerged.

To organize these events will be a big task, but one we are tackling with vigor on a daily basis. These events, we expect, will expand as word spreads after each event. We do hope to see world leaders inviting the on-site Earth Advisors to speak in their countries, but for now, we will focus on regional events (e.g., Middle East, Asia, Europe) that represent a given part of civilization versus a specific culture or country. We hope to have this accomplished by mid-May 2014 and then the five on-site Earth Advisors will travel to specific locations where the populace is prepared to experience their presence first hand.

Once we feel the Advisors have a good standing with the presenters of the regional events, we will start an outreach program to accommodate the more specific areas and regions. To accomplish this, we will by then have introduced more members of the Earth Advisors and be able to spread ourselves out to meet the demands of this task. We cannot force this issue. We must play it by ear through our efforts and wait for the natural progression to ensue.

Then our plans will take a different course, for it is human beings who must do the actual work to lead humanity out of its quagmire. We are merely advisors and will need to set up effective means to accomplish this. Humanity will need to understand, accept and recognize that our means to guide will be aided by those throughout humanity who we choose and train to voice our thoughts. We have some work to do here in convincing humanity of this methodology, enabling them to be comfortable with the fact that we have proxies of sort to spread our thoughts rather than always appearing in the physical ourselves.

Due to our vastly different planes of existence, it consumes less energy to telepathically and otherwise transmit our thoughts and suggestions. Each physical appearance requires a tremendous outpouring of energy so in order to conserve energy and maximize effective energy utilization, we need to use more conservative or easier methods of communication.

Thus our next step is to normalize the proceedings of how we communicate and guide humanity, which will take several forms, one of which is through our trained channels. We have set up specific protocols and procedures with those groups we have specifically trained for this purpose.

The information we provide needs to be handled in a group situation, a group setting where the members balance one another energetically, mentally and spiritually. We do not want there to be any gurus or leaders among those who become our voice, which would surely lead to the type of power struggle much illustrated in Earth's history books. We have trained our channels to work in these balanced groups, to support the work load and balance the information as each channel represents a fraction of the information. The distribution of information will be best served in this way. There will be official, trained voices and unofficial voices who represent our thoughts by fulfilling their pre-birth soul agreements.

Spreading the word of our involvement with humanity and normalizing communications protocols are two major steps in our cohesive co-operation with humanity and very important steps before we can proceed. Without these steps in place, little much else can be accomplished.

The Consciousness Expansion Leadership Team (CELT)

Lord Maitreya ...

We have waited for this year to arrive for a very long time. 2014 is considered to be a year of awakening for many on a large scale. It is a year that will bring changes – changes that are needed for the survival of this planet and for its ascension as well.

Much information was shared in the past about our assignment, our roles and responsibilities and our collaboration with humanity. Many steps have been taken out of sight and unknown to the public – steps where bridges were built between us and individuals serving as representatives of humanity.

This is going to change now in a big way. The first steps into a new direction were taken at the end of 2013 through events where we – Earth Advisors who represent the Community of Masters and our Allies – were invited to speak to groups of invited people in two different geographic locations. We appreciated these opportunities very much as these two events are looked at as the starting point of a new collaboration with and a new era for humanity.

More events of a similar nature are currently being discussed and organized.

It is our intention to meet as many groups as possible in 2014, to be seen, to become known again, to get re-introduced to humanity, establish amicable relationships and get invited to join collaborations with humanity for the betterment of this planet. This we would do with groups of people around the globe – with the emphasis on “groups.” We come as a group and we are interested in working in and with groups.

We have drawn up a list of topics, topics that we consider extremely important to be dealt with in the first round of our collaboration with humanity. These topics need to be dealt with globally and not in isolation by only a very few.

Transparency concerning our collaboration with humanity is also an important factor. We wish everybody to see and understand the projects we are working on with humanity. We are committed to sharing information with you that will require an open mind and willingness from your side to let go of old beliefs and values. It is these projects and ones like them that will spur human creativity and create an environment conducive to the growth of the human soul and the environment that allows everyone the freedom to follow their own spiritual path.

Topics we have identified as urgent on our list include:

- global poverty alleviation
- a new approach to leadership
- a new understanding of wealth and its distribution
- resource management – also known as the Commons
- crisis management – especially in areas at war
- education – childhood and adult education alike
- environmental awareness and stewardship
- “in the name of God” – what that really means

These are just some examples from our list, examples that might overlap in some respects but never underestimate the importance of the bigger picture. These topics are all inter-related, all pieces of the same puzzle, of the same topic called Humanity on Earth.

We are here to work with you on those aspects of humanity that are in dire straits and need correcting to allow the next milestone to be reached on humanity’s path to ascension.

Those of you who are open to receiving information from us through those willing to serve as our voices have already had one or more wake-up calls in the past. You have already been through your moments of reasoning about the world’s current status, visible and invisible. Many of you have opened to the understanding that there is more than what is taught in your schools, that there is sacred knowledge waiting to be released. Well, I have news for you: the moment has come to release this sacred knowledge globally.

This individual realization that there has to be more than can be seen with the naked eye is the first step on your path back to the origin of mankind. The very moment when you realized that the world out there is so much larger and richer than what your conditioned mind is allowing you to perceive ... this very moment was sacred. It was sacred because it reconnected you to Source ... and although this reconnection is made via a very thin cord, this cord nevertheless is able to expand and show you the path back to your origin.

This moment was sacred indeed.

Therefore, we who have come to assist you on your path also look at ourselves as your catalysts to the higher consciousness that you all carry – a higher consciousness that is dormant and needs to be ignited. And this, too, is an action item on our list: to ignite your consciousness and guide you to higher realms to truly discover your own divinity.

Our list is long. It covers projects of the physical world that are tangible, projects that you can touch, see and feel, but also other projects that are related to other realms and dimensions that can only be perceived with higher consciousness, consciousness that allows you to understand how to access the invisible world. This understanding, this knowledge, is part of the education that we intend to provide you with as well.

The year 2014, the year of open collaboration between us and humanity, will turn out to be a remarkable year for humanity – a year of miracles for some, a year of facing facts and reassessing values and beliefs for others.

We are looking forward to it. We are looking forward to meeting you, working with you, empowering you. We are looking forward to building a strong foundation for our partnership, a partnership that paves the way for future generations to walk in peace on this sacred planet.

Maitreya

Think of a plain sheet of white paper lying in front of you. You are the scribe of the text that will be written down. You can be the creator of the text. Or you can be the student attending class or an interesting lecture, taking notes to remember its content. Or you can be working on a specific topic in a team, taking notes, jointly exploring and developing an outcome that needs to be documented before it can be shared and published. Many things are doable using a sheet of paper.

The sheet of white paper is the opportunity you are all given now – in 2014 – on a larger scale. It is this eagerly awaited moment of revelation about yourselves as humans of this planet. It is the moment of truth gifted to you by your elder relatives, an opportunity you have longed for and now, after eons of waiting, this moment has arrived.

It is the moment, the year of transparency, of asking honest questions and getting honest answers. It is the year of admitting and acknowledging mishaps and mistakes and realizing the deeper meaning of it all.

It is the year in which our long-lost partnership will start to blossom again in public – at least with those of you who are open to a partnership with us.

2014 is the year to rekindle the fire of trust, friendship and partnership between us.

The Earth Masters took a bold decision to introduce us alongside them right from the very beginning of their reappearance. The objective here is to reconfirm our presence but also our alliance and friendship. And this alliance and friendship should be mirrored now between you, the readers, and us.

This new Earth needs to embrace a new understanding of life on Earth. Life on Earth – let these three words sink in ... Life on Earth....

Our mission is giving support to the Earth Masters and their mission with humanity. Life on this planet is manifold and comes in a variety of degrees of consciousness which you call evolution. One of the reasons why there is so much ill-will within the human kingdom is based on the fact that there are different degrees of consciousness presently living alongside one another. When you look at the plant or the animal kingdom, you do not find these gaps within their evolutionary path – they all develop to the same degree at the same rate. The human kingdom is different. The gaps that have developed are the culprits behind the world we see today – a world that is out of balance.

Therefore, the aim for 2014 and beyond – apart from our reintroduction and establishing trust and friendship – is to look closer at these different degrees of consciousness that cause this planet so much harm and grief, understand their cause and find ways to help close the gap.

I have mentioned before that my assignment is to assist the Earth Masters in the collection of data and the understanding of individual consciousness and the consciousness of groups or societies. This is my skill set. The indicator showing people's advancement on their respective evolutionary path is reflected by their degree of consciousness which changes to a higher vibratory rate the further they advance. This change has significant features – features that are more focused on the well-being of all than just the one. Oneness in its different developmental stages is becoming the focus of the expanding consciousness of the individual.

My topic is complex and not easy to grasp for many at the moment. Be assured that those of you who are interested in it will be offered information to understand more about the importance of consciousness on the path of evolution and peace in the world. You will also receive guidance to work on yourselves if you so wish.

We have just started to openly interact with humanity. At the same time, we are learning from those we are interacting with how best to collaborate with representatives of humanity. Therefore, the year 2014 is also a year to get to know each other first, to learn as much about the partner as possible, to be aware that misunderstandings can occur and be willing to admit and talk about them without losing face and faith.

Building the foundation for this long-lost partnership is an important factor in its success. Only a strong foundation carried in harmony by committed partners can be sustainable – partners who respect and trust each other fully. This is my focus for the first phase: to assist in building a strong foundation and platform for the collaborative work to unfold, grow and blossom as envisioned by us together.

I thank you for the opportunity to share my thoughts with you again.

Your friend,

Sho

At the beginning of the year, many of you like to reflect on the old year and take a glimpse at the new one. Well, we can already assure you all that the upcoming year will be one of many changes. Some of the changes will come about with concerted events during which the five on-site Earth Advisors are going to make their presence known more publicly. Naturally, this is a big step, not only for humanity but for the ones stepping forward. There is much excitement in our realm as well.

What can anyone of you do to get through the changes? The way forward is to embrace the new truth, be open to the wisdom and beauty of the newly braided bonds.

A lot of us will be working in the background to reach as many people on this planet as possible. It will be impossible to monopolize our words or actions, as we will reach out to people in many, many ways. You will be able to feel us in your hearts, sense us in words of truth and hear us talk to you.

The year 2014 will indeed be a significant milestone. Prepare for a rocky start. While the world as we know it shakes, there will also be an awakening, a positive all-around vibrancy. The times that we live in are exciting ones.

For those of you with a deep yearning for change, a determination to help make this world a better one, this is a golden opportunity.

We would like to strengthen the bonds between humanity and us to a degree where it is normal to seek our advice, where you can feel the support of your elder brothers and sisters at all times. We don't want to be there only in tough times, when humanity feels the need to reach out to us, but we want to be part of the golden times, when you celebrate what has been achieved. And there will be much celebration and achievement as humanity reaches calmer shores and a deeper understanding, a higher consciousness and a clearer picture of the path that lies ahead.

For each and every one of you – and also each and every one of us – the beginning of 2014 will be a time of reflection and a time to make new plans. We advise you not to chisel your plans in stone, but only to draw them in sand. As the year emerges, you will probably find that the plans you were envisioning might not be worthy to achieve or that they slip as a priority in your life. It is good then that you be able rake them away and replace them with new ones. Be open to change and adjust to the situations, the news, the challenges that 2014 will bring about.

As the year goes on, we will all find ourselves in the cycles of the seasons. Springtime, when the ideas, changes and new seeds begin to sprout. Summer, when things develop, when projects take shape, when the richness of life is blossoming. Autumn, when the harvest is being brought in, when you can see the results of the new ways and approaches. Winter, when it is time to rest, rejuvenate and reflect on what has been achieved – and prepare for new ideas and new seedlings to be planted in the next year....

The concept of seasons is very well known to you in agriculture, but you hardly ever take it into consideration in your daily lives. There are mini-seasons in your daily life, or seasons spanning several years in your calendar. It is wise to live by seasons, as it is a natural tool. If you identify your personal seasons and try to embrace them, you will find many benefits in them.

We, the Earth Advisors, are happy to be walking this path into the New Year and beyond with you. We encourage you to go forth with determination, courage and the knowledge that we are here to support you every step of the way. Your joy is our joy, your achievements are ours, ours are yours. Together, we will plant the seeds, enjoy the plants growing, bring in the harvest and reflect in 2014. The team spirit is strong.

Thank you!

Lady Nada

Master St. Germain ...

My colleagues, my companions have all discussed in one way or another how the year 2014 is to be a turning point, a milestone in our relationship in that we will be, for the first time in literally aeons, walking openly side by side and working hopefully hand in hand in delivering the plan, the Divine Plan for humanity at this time, setting the framework, the platform for a new civilization and the new Earth.

I would like to discuss what will be required from you in this collaboration and specifically what will be required of your hearts and minds. There are many who will not accept our assistance eagerly, who do not see the need for change, who do not see the precipice on which humanity now stands. Many will discount the information, many will ignore it and many, alas, will even fight it tooth and nail. This is humanity's prerogative....

But many more are open to the new time and the new ways and the changes that must be made to ensure humanity's survival – not only that humanity survive but that it thrive, embracing this new and better page of the great plan, the Divine Plan for Mother Earth and all whose lives she sustains. So we would have you embrace your free will and joyfully put your shoulder to the wheel, help turn the cogs to bring in the light of this new life that is being offered to you.

Those of you reading these pages, this website, are in some ways in the vanguard of knowledge as to what is going on and how our imminent approach changes everything in 2014. And so you will be able to help allay and quell the many fears that will arise, the tension that will take hold, the shock even in some cases. You will have been prepared and so you can be agents of calm, agents of light, agents of optimism as parts of humanity flounder. We would have you play this role, dip into this mission – to be bringers of peace and understanding, co-operation and even partnership.

Each of you in your own way can put your shoulder to the wheel, can bring your eyes to the vision, your voice to the new time, for your ears have heard. Each of you can find your own particular way of facilitating the change, of easing the path into this new world. You do not have to look far, for this knowledge is engraved in your very heart. Find there the courage, find there the steadfastness and find there the joy that this new beginning brings. Lend your shoulder to the wheel and be part of the vanguard creating the new civilization, the new time.

Some of you will work in science, some of you will work at the blackboards, in the operating theaters, in the labs, and very importantly too in the homes.

It is at this ground level that a World Renaissance begins, where the light pours in, in your daily loving and living chores. For each of you is part of this World Renaissance in your own special way.

We hold out our hand to you, we greet you, we welcome you to this new year, 2014, and the new time.

Your brother,

St. Germain*
