The Venetian Master ...

The subject for this month is the correspondence between what is popularly called “the shift” and what we have called the “emergence of the Masters of Wisdom.” We are now rethinking that term emergence, trying out new terms to find one that will accurately represent what is really happening.

What we are doing is reestablishing our active, on-site advisory relationship with humanity. This relationship existed in the time of Atlantis, when those who were then members of the Hierarchy walked openly among evolving humanity as teachers and advisors and guides. It has been many years since then – many years. Most of us currently in the Hierarchy were not members of the Atlantis Hierarchy. That does not alter the fact that we are now in the process of reestablishing the active relationship that existed then.

Our effort has been given the term “emergence.” It has been called a coming forth, which it is, but it is much more than that. We are coming forth as a team to revitalize a relationship that existed long ago, to revitalize our working relationship with humanity.

The important part to remember is that we are coming as a team.

Now what does this have to do with what is popularly called “the shift”? The answer can be given in a single word, and that word is vibration. That one word has a great depth of meaning, a great spiritual depth. All is vibration. All is motion. All energy is vibration. All energy is motion.

What does our revitalization of a relationship that existed long ago have to do with the shift? Their common core is a vibrational change.

The shift is what is going on as Mother Earth raises her vibration. Raising vibrations puts you at a new level. Picture a chart that shows the oscillation of radio waves. AM. FM. Frequencies. Vibrational frequencies. What this shift is doing is dialing a new frequency.

When you dial a new frequency, does the old frequency go away? No. It is still there. It is just not being used. You are tuning in and you are working in a new frequency. That is what is happening in the shift. Mother Earth is going through a transition from one frequency to another and all who are going with her will find themselves working in a new frequency, in a higher vibration.

There are many consequences as this higher vibration becomes the norm.

Dimensions that were veiled to humanity, just as FM stations are veiled to AM listeners, will now become visible and humanity will have to deal with them. Humanity can look forward to seeing new friends, to creating new partners in the One. Those of the Angelic-Devic Kingdom will be among the first of these new friends. Children have been born who can see members of this kingdom already.

There has been much said about third dimension and fourth dimension, fourth dimension and fifth dimension. All these are simply ways of categorizing a vibrational change, a shift in frequencies. There is no mystery. It simply boils down to a change in frequency.

When the frequency changes, then those who are existing within the frequency also change. If you have ever been passing or stopped at a light next to a car blasting out a very loud rock band, you have felt the vibrations. They surround you. Then the car moves on and things return to normal.

When the planet on which you live goes through a vibrational shift, a frequency shift, then you, too, shift. But you remain in the new frequency. There is no return to the former "normal."

This permanent shift signifies evolution. As matter evolves on the journey toward spirit, as your soul evolves in its return to the Divine, there are various frequencies you travel through. You might say that you start your journey at a very low frequency and you complete your journey at a very, very high frequency. We have been through the evolution of an individual soul.¹

Mother Earth is a Great Being who is also on a journey of return to the Divine, as are the souls of those who are reading these words. So Mother Earth is moving from one frequency, I shall call it 11, to another frequency, which I shall call 12. All those who inhabit Mother Earth – and I do mean all, from the core through all the layers of this planet and everything in the mineral kingdom, the plant kingdom, the human kingdom and those kingdoms which are not in your taxonomy of kingdoms – all are traveling now through this frequency change.

For humanity, those who are prepared to make a frequency shift physically, emotionally, mentally and spiritually will have the easiest time with this vibrational shift of Mother Earth. Yet all these shifts from the lower frequencies to higher frequencies imply evolution. They are evolution. They are progress. They are steps forward – steps forward toward reunification with the Divine, steps forward in manifesting the beauty of the soul on the physical plane.

And what do we see as this evolution occurs? That is the question. What do we see? What comes with progress?

What comes with evolution and progress is change – change in relationships. Humanity's relationship with Mother Earth changes because the reality of the physical world that humanity inhabits changes.

Those without etheric vision limit reality to what we refer to as the dense physical. The reality of the new frequency includes the more rarefied plane where those with etheric vision see a different reality.

Which reality is real? The point is that reality is with the beholder whenever you are looking from the inside out.

As the veil thins, those who have etheric vision – as their vibrations rise because Mother Earth is raising her vibration – will begin to see what they have not seen. They will begin to hear what they have not heard. They will sense and feel what they have not sensed and felt before, because their individual vibrations are higher. Their vibrations will be closer to the vibration of those who have lived in the high vibration to which Mother Earth is moving, lived there and existed there for a very long time.

Picture, if you would, someone who has lived on one side of the tracks – there is a railroad track running through this town and some people live on the east side and some people live on the west, and they pretty much stay on their own side of the tracks. And now, all of sudden, someone from the west side moves to the east side and says, "I've never been here before. I've never seen these things before." That is what we are talking about, because suddenly you find yourself seeing and tasting and feeling and hearing what you have not seen, felt, tasted or heard before.

What else does this change mean? This change means that the institutions that support various relationships will also have to change their vibration or they will not survive in the new frequency. This is the shift. This is what the shift is: a change to a new vibrational frequency, change in relationships, advancement, if you will, toward the goal of manifesting the Divine on Earth through communication between each soul and its incarnation. Master Kuthumi has likened this communication to telephone cords that connect the soul to its incarnation on the dense physical plane.² Communication will be less static. People will hear their souls more easily in this new frequency.

Now what does this have to do with the reintegration of the Hierarchy into the daily lives of humanity?

- We are here to guide you and teach you and advise you on how to create and build in this new, higher-frequency environment.
- We are here to help you adjust your own frequencies so that you are more closely aligned with the rarefied realm where your soul exists.
- We are here to help you understand the dimensions as the veil thins and you meet friends, beings, that you have not met, seen, heard, felt or known before.
- We are here to give you advice on creating appropriate institutions in and for this new frequency that the shift brings.
- We are here to help groups of you move forward together, because one of the relationships that changes is the group relationship.

Yes, you are individuals, but you move in groups. And we will work with groups. As individuals join a group, and as groups merge, their members will begin to realize the One and recognize the Oneness that we all are. The recognition of Oneness will be evident as all the denizens of this new frequency become clear co-inhabitants of Mother Earth.

This is a time of great change, a time of great opportunity for humanity. It is nothing to be feared. It is an opportunity, a huge opportunity to move forward in your soul's evolution, to balance karma that has existed. And we are here.

We are coming. We will assist and guide and advise. We will even perhaps suggest plans, but as I have explained before using my art analogy, we will help you with the pencil drawing for a masterwork of art. What it is you are building in this new frequency, building within yourself, building with and within the groups to which you belong and building for all of humanity, this is up to you. We will help you with the pencil drawings for what you intend to build and give advice, but it is you who will be doing the work. I think that is all I have to say.

I thank you.

The Venetian Master

Master Morya ...

This month's topic is the relationship between what is popularly called "the shift" and the fact that we of the Spiritual Hierarchy are extending our interface with humanity and arriving as a team. This is popularly called "the emergence." Since many of us have emerged already, this is simply an extension of an existing process. The difference is that we are coming as a completely united team.

This time, we will advertise, is what it boils down to. We have let you know we are coming. That is advertisement. We will continue expanded Internet messages such as these panel discussions, but beyond that we are not going. We are not going to take out ads in the paper, nor are we going to give out addresses and phone numbers. Those who are attuned to us and our messages will find us, and word will spread. That is what will be happening beginning in 2013.

Now what does this extension of our working relationship with humanity have to do with what is called the shift? That is the question. How are they related? And they are related.

Why did we choose this time, this particular point in history, rather than any other? That is the question.

There are two answers:

- One is the progress humanity has made toward spiritual maturity. And for those markers, one must look at the positive steps forward rather than focusing on all that remains to be done.
- The second reason is that at this point in time Mother Earth – the Great Being that sustains every life form on Planet Earth, the Great Being whose plan we are committed to support – is going through an initiatory process that results in an increased vibrational frequency.

That's a very fancy way of saying Mother Earth's vibrational rate is rising.

When that happens, the alteration in frequency affects every single animate and inanimate structure on the physical plane of Planet Earth. This includes human beings and, as an aside, all their pets and their work animals as well.

Also the wild animals. Also humanity's house plants and its forests and its grasslands, etc.

This shift is all-inclusive. This vibrational change spares no one and nothing. In response, all animate and inanimate objects, all living creatures, including human beings, will be changing.

We of the Spiritual Hierarchy are committed to being out in the open and available as guides and advisors and, in many cases, cheerleaders for humanity

- as they take stock of what they have created in the nature of institutions and social structures,
- as they move forward with those institutions and social structures that benefit their own spiritual maturation, and
- as they restructure and reconstitute those institutions and social structures that no longer serve.

This is the equivalent of spring housecleaning or cleaning out the messy garage or cleaning out the pile of trash behind the house. You keep what is useful and good, and you toss that which no longer serves a useful purpose. We are here to assist in that process.

The shift, the change that takes place in the physical bodies of humanity, the increased ability to communicate with us and with their own souls due to the thinning of the veil, will inspire the cleaning house and the creation of a new civilization. That is simply a fact.

Now, cleaning house and tossing out what no longer serves can be seen as literally cleaning house and tossing out what no longer serves. Or it can be seen as institutional collapse. This is simply a situation of a glass half-full or a glass half-empty. Many of us have said, in this period of transition, choose carefully who you listen to and follow those who have a positive path into the future.

Are there going to be cataclysmic events on this planet?

That, too, is a matter of perspective. If an earthquake destroys your home, it is a cataclysmic event. And there will be such geologic events during the transition process. This, too, unfortunately, is part of the transition.

This is how we see the connection between the shift and our, for lack of a better consistent term, emergence. It is a matter of timing.

Is the Earth going to be destroyed and humanity destroyed? Well, let me simply say that if these scenarios of destruction were accurate, we would hardly pick this as the time to come forth to guide and advise about building a new civilization. These scenarios of destruction are fear run amok.

I would like to add one more comment. Why, at this juncture, have many of our members said that we are concerned about humanity and humanity's survival? It is not because of the shift and the potential destruction of Planet Earth that the fear mongers are peddling. That is not the reason.

The reason is humanity's spiritual attitude, humanity's place in the cosmos, humanity's relationship with Mother Earth and humanity's relationship with those beings in other dimensions. There are beings in other dimensions that will become accessible once the veil thins. This has been said many times over. There was a time when beings in these other dimensions were part of humanity's day-to-day life.

But the humanity of the time, armed with technology beyond their psychological and spiritual maturity, assumed that it was their place to rule all dimensions, that even Mother Earth, herself, was subject to humanity's will and interests. This is not true. Humanity must be in partnership with Mother Earth, and with each other, and with the beings in other dimensions. It is humanity's attitude, the attitudinal immaturity, that we feared. Continued immaturity would be the destruction of humanity.

Unless there is a good dose of humility and working in partnership with Mother Earth, with other dimensions and with each other, humanity is in danger of self-annihilation. Those are strong words, but I do mean them.

It is time to grow up and realize that you are not the bully on the block. Partnership with Mother Earth, with other dimensional beings and with other human beings, this will be part of the advice we give, because when those partnerships are settled and become part of humanity's daily life, you will find that it will be much, much easier to transition from what was and what is now, into what you creatively build based on relationships of partnering and mutual respect.

We are coming forth at this time that we may guide, advise, encourage the plans you make and the relationships you build, that we may help explain what is going on, answer your questions and help you move forward in partnership with us, with beings of other dimensions, with Mother Earth, and with each other.

I have repeated that several times with deliberation. That is the connection between the shift and our coming forth. It is simply time. It is time for humanity as a whole to claim its own spiritual maturity, a maturity that is right there, ready to be experienced.

This is the time.

Thank you.

Master Morya

Mother Mary ...

I won't say a great deal about the relationship between what is popularly called the shift and our expanded presence within humanity. I shall call it expanded presence for, as many would argue, we are and have been present for some time. Whether or not we have been recognized is one issue. Whether or not we are recognizable as expected is another issue.

Being recognizable as expected is an issue for me, and for many of us who are among the most prominent, and I do not say that with any great satisfaction. When I say among the most prominent, I mean those whose public image has been set and perpetuated over the centuries. Thus, we are expected to appear in certain guises and we are expected to appear as we have appeared to others before.

This is not what we are about as we expand our presence. We will appear, I would say, as our truer higher selves, as we may be of most use to humanity, to a new humanity whose physical bodies have altered as the frequency of Mother Earth alters with the shift.

I would use an analogy that is not by any means entirely adequate, but will give you a flavor of what I speak about. I would liken humanity now to the caterpillar of a glorious butterfly. That caterpillar itself is a beautiful creature. Yet at some point, it spins itself a cocoon and that cocoon is a transitional change of frequency, analogous to Mother Earth's transitional change and rise in frequency.

When the chrysalis ruptures and there emerges a butterfly, the butterfly might be considered as existing at a different frequency than the caterpillar and yet they are one and the same. One would not exist without the other.

What does this mean? It means that as humanity goes through this period of transition likened unto the cocoon, we of the Spiritual Hierarchy will be there. We will guide and we will aid. Anyone who has seen a cocoon knows that it is quite confining compared to the before state of the caterpillar or the after state of the butterfly. It is small, it is compact, it is confining.

A period of transition can be confining in many ways, not necessarily physically, but that too. Transition is confining psychologically and emotionally inasmuch as the old ways that were familiar and the old environment which was familiar have been altered by the very fact of the transition.

From the perspective of this caterpillar, what was, what existed, has been altered by the very fact of the transition into the cocoon. And the environment will once again be altered when the period of transition is over.

A vast, new and different world opens to the butterfly. The caterpillar cannot spread its wings and fly. The butterfly can. The caterpillar can inch its way from this flower to that flower, from this blade of grass to that blade of grass. The butterfly would flit. The grass is still there, but the butterfly does not inch its way or walk.

Well, all analogies eventually break down, and this one will too.

The shift is a period of transition as vibrational rates increase. I think this has been made clear in many places, and we of the Spiritual Hierarchy will be there on this transitional ground in forms you can identify, in places you will know or find. We will guide and aid in this potentially tumultuous time of transition that you may envision and build a new world. And we will be there to guide and advise, to give you our perspective from having traveled further down the road.

That is the relationship I see between our expansion into humanity and "the shift."

We see this as a critical period of transition and we would help you, inasmuch as we are allowed by Law, to plan and make decisions that will create a beautiful new world built on a foundation of love and harmony and spiritual maturity.

I think that is all I wish to say. Consider the shift a period of transition. Consider us who will be walking among you as guides and advisors as you navigate this transition into the new.

Thank you.

Mother Mary

Lord Tabor ...

I do look forward to this topic. I have made it clear in these essays that I have had in the past, and have now, a very close working relationship with the Devic Kingdom. Devas are the builders. They exist and live in another dimension and they are the ones who are the engineers, the planners, the supervisors in nature. Their planning ranges from the geophysical properties of Mother Earth through the plants and even the animals. They build. They build animal bodies, they build plant bodies, they build human bodies.

Now it is impossible to show with the written words, I think, the emphasis I put on that last phrase, so I will repeat. The devas build our human bodies for us. They follow laws, but they do the building.

The Venetian Master and Master Morya have each made it clear that with this shift, the entire population of Mother Earth, from the magma deep in her interior to the vanishing atmosphere above her soil, is changing. All is shifting, transitioning, to a more rarefied frequency. This is nothing that can be hidden from. The veil is thinning. There are many who currently see those of the Angelic-Devic Kingdom. Children report playing with fairies. Fairies hold a supervisory position within the kingdom.

There is a kingdom, the Elven Kingdom, which is separate from the Devic Kingdom, but I will not go there in any great detail. The point is, the human mechanism is changing to a greater degree, its frequency is rising faster than that of the Devic Kingdom, so the kingdoms will begin to overlap.

If the Devic Kingdom and the Human Kingdom were hiking a trail in my forest and if the Devic Kingdom were in the lead and the Human Kingdom behind, then due to the increase in frequency of Mother Earth, each kingdom metaphorically increases the length of its stride. The Human Kingdom, however, increases the length of its stride one and a half times the length that the Devic Kingdom increases its stride, so the Human Kingdom begins to overtake the Devic Kingdom in this hiking example.

That is a metaphoric explanation of the relationship between the two kingdoms and why it is that the veil is thinning and why it is that more human beings will begin to see their devic partners. And I would emphasize the word partners, for this is the time to reconstruct the partnership that existed in the time of Atlantis, the open, full-blown partnership.

Clearly, since we have plants and soil and rocks, devas from the Angelic-Devic Kingdom have been working, but we have not been partnering with them. Mostly we have forgotten or denied that they exist.

What is the shift? The shift is one way of bringing humanity's awareness of other dimensions into their consciousness. Subconsciously, I am certain, humanity has not forgotten. But consciously, most of humanity has forgotten or denies the existence of the Devic Kingdom.

All frequencies are changing, rising. How humanity chooses to respond to these changes is what is at issue. It does no one any good to run to a deserted area or a spot in the forest that has access to tillable sections of land nearby and an unpolluted stream. That does no good. All vibrations, in all kingdoms, are rising. You cannot avoid this.

Unless you, as human beings, are willing to work with each other, how can you begin to work with other kingdoms? With the animals and plants of the forest? With devas who build the animals and plants of the forest?

Everyone is in this Oneness. Everyone is in this together, and together, partnering, is the way to consider what this shift means, and to plan and respond. It is a time to prove your spiritual maturity in the way you relate to one another and as you begin to see other dimensional beings, to prove your spiritual maturity by relating to them.

Now my friend Master Hilarion has made, and will continue to make it clear that once spiritual maturity is established, there is information that one would call "technology" that can be released to humanity for the benefit of all.

It would make much more sense to me if you focused on strengthening a spiritual maturity that looks to caring for one another, making certain that everyone has a way forward, a spiritual maturity that looks to ways of building a new world in this new frequency environment rather than building a fort and trying to fend off that which cannot be fended off.

And what does all this have to do with the emergence? I am one who has emerged. I am in the mountains. I have been working with humanity, whether or not anyone recognizes me as Lord Tabor. My teammates will be coming forward. We will all be advising, and through the convictions we hold with one another, we will be giving the same advice in different terms, in different forms, customized to the questioner, customized to the plan at hand, but it will be the same advice. We are unified. We are here to guide and advise. This was made clear last April.³

Now this month, we give you an idea about the focus of our advice and our guidance. The advice we give is our experience, for we have traveled further. The guidance we give is to support your spiritual journey that you may contact your own soul. We will answer your questions.

It is my wish that you spend a few moments with your soul, with one of us, or with one who has spoken with one of us, and look to a path forward, to life in this new vibrational frequency that will leverage the beauty and the possibility of the human being, and the creativity that comes as naturally to human beings as breathing.

There are those who pander fear. We would say look forward to an adventure, for this transition will be an adventure. And as in any adventure, there may be some stubbed toes, but if one is aware that this is an adventure and aware of the goal and the beauty at the far end, the pain may be limited to stubbed toes rather than falling and bruising an arm or breaking a rib.

I speak, of course, in metaphors. I am trying to say that the trail ahead for this transition is not a smooth, clear asphalt trail. It is a rocky trail that may have a minor washout here and there. It may need a little detour here and there, but if you know you are hiking and you are prepared with the proper hiking boots, and the proper walking sticks, and your backpack with your thermos, these minor detours are simply that – minor detours. So one of the things that we hope to bring to you is an understanding of the trail ahead, so that you can prepare yourself to hike it.

That is how I see the relationship between the shift that creates this new trail – this new trail! Imagine the excitement of traveling a brand new trail.

³ "Emergence of the Spiritual Hierarchy," WeSeekToServe.com, April, 2012.

The shift brings this new trail as a trail. And it may need some clearing.

We of the Spiritual Hierarchy bring advice to prepare you – maps, equipment, a review of your itinerary – metaphorically again. We are here to prepare you to hike that trail. That is the relationship we would have with you, but we do not walk that trail. This you will do, together.

I thank you.

Lord Tabor

Lord Maitreya ...

I will speak to the relationship between the shift and our expanded presence within humanity.

My colleagues are covering a great deal, so I will give you my take on the relationship between the two. And they are related. That will be clear if you have read comments from even two of the panelists. This relationship is, as one of my colleagues has said, a matter of timing.

We are at a confluence of events:

- a spiritual maturation milestone for Mother Earth as she assumes a higher vibratory rate within the cosmos,
- a spiritual maturation point for the cosmos as a whole, because the cosmos as a whole has reached a new spiritual vibratory rate,
- a spiritual maturation for humanity, although that may seem unrealistically optimistic given the negative side of human behavior which is quite visible. It is still a spiritual maturation for humanity.

This confluence of events gives the Spiritual Hierarchy the opportunity to restore alliances that were broken a long time back as humanity measures time, but not so very long ago in the scope of the One. This confluence is, from my perspective, part of a restorative process. We are using combined spiritual vibratory changes to reestablish humanity's innate and natural relationship with Mother Earth, with other dimensions and with the greater cosmos that is, in fact, Creation.

Now I don't want you to think that Creation is limited to the greater cosmos, for it is not. What you see with your ocular telescopes and your radio telescopes and your space probes is, for the most part, only the physical cosmos and there are dimensions beyond, just as on the physical plane there are dimensions beyond those normally seen by humanity. A few of your number see into these other dimensions with ease. Even they will be, I think, surprised at what they find when they experience the personal vibratory increase that will accompany the vibratory increase taking place for Mother Earth.

So one way I view this relationship between the shift and our expanded presence is the restoration of broken alliances.

Another way I view the relationship is an expansion of consciousness, a maturing, a rite of passage not only for Mother Earth, but for humanity. Now could this change for humanity take place if it were not for the rise in the vibratory rate of Mother Earth? The answer to that is yes. Humanity did not need this vibratory rate change, this frequency increase, in order to accomplish its own spiritual maturity, but as it happens, that is the path that has been traveled. We of the Spiritual Hierarchy accept that and will work with that.

As these events all flow together, they create a vortex of opportunity, a vortex of opportunity to grow, to realize and manifest the best intentions of individual souls as well as the best intentions of soul groups that exist within humanity. Virtually all souls belong to one or more soul groups. The advantage now, with this shift, is that soul groups can begin to understand that they are manifested as a soul group, with all the relationships that belonging to a soul group implies, both on the soul plane and on the physical plane.

This confluence of events is an opportunity. It is a time for realizing and taking advantage of that opportunity, a time to work together, a time to resolve ancient imbalances and move forward together, in unity. This is the opportunity that presents itself and is aided by the rise in frequency of Mother Earth.

Now what are we of the Spiritual Hierarchy doing as we extend our presence among humanity? Ideally, we are giving soul groups a jumpstart. And soul groups are composed of individual souls. We will work most openly with soul groups.

How does one find one's soul group? First, one must find one's own soul, so the first step is communication with your individual soul, and this is made easier in the increased vibratory frequency that Mother Earth is transitioning through. Once you recognize the resonance of your own soul, you will begin to recognize an affinity of resonance with others in your soul group. This will take many forms, a deep sense of common purpose, common dharma, among them.

I think I will leave the finding of one's soul group at that.

As I said, we of the Spiritual Hierarchy will be working with soul groups. It may be on the inner planes that we do more soul group work than on the outer planes until such time as it becomes evident that most in humanity are aware of the soul groups to which they belong and have begun to function as groups. Even if the groups humanity forms are not soul groups, we will definitely be working with groups who are working for the benefit of humanity. People may find us individually, but that will give us an opportunity to work with the group or groups that they are associated with.

In many instances we will seek out leaders, influencers of various groups that have humanity's best interest at heart or are in a position to create segments of the new civilization. We will approach these leaders and influencers with our message. So not only will we be answering questions and offering advice and guidance from those places where we will reside most frequently, we will also observe and we will seek out those who are in a position to help humanity build the new civilization in terms of harmony and love and peace – in terms of equality.

We can seek these people out. We can deliver the message. They will decide whether or not our message is worth listening to. That is also part of what we will do.

We of the Spiritual Hierarchy have a deep and abiding love for humanity and a deep and abiding faith that humanity is on the verge of a spiritual growth spurt that will lead to maturity heretofore unexperienced. That maturity will be the driving force for building the new civilization as well as manifested proof that humanity can be trusted with knowledge, with information that has been lost in time, proof that humanity is ready to relearn and reapply what was once known and applied in daily life.

All of this is our expanded presence within humanity and all of this works hand-in-hand – occurs hand-in-hand – complementarily to the rise in vibration of Mother Earth.

Thank you.

Lord Maitreya

Master St. Germain ...

I have been debating what I would say about the relationship between the shift and our expanded presence within humanity. Where is the emphasis in this particular relationship and where is the middle path?

On one hand, with the shift we are dealing with massive speculation, some of it – all too much of it – in the nature of cataclysmic fears. Whether these fears are expressed positively in such words as “those who are ready shall move and those who are not ready shall not move” – the implication being “get yourself ready to move or else,” – or whether these fears are expressed in words that are outright warnings that we are going to have unprecedented solar activity and we are all going to need shelters and our communications will break down, the speculation is usually colored with fear.

Now I don't know if anyone is saying how long this shift will take, but there is much fear associated with it. I would say perhaps more fear than education and preparation.

And then we have the other half of the equation, those of the Spiritual Hierarchy coming forth to walk among human beings on the physical plane. And here we also have multiple schools of thought – those who are saying, “Well this is nothing new. They do that all the time. They are already here. What's the big deal?” And you have those who say, “Not going to happen!”

I don't think there is any fear associated with our coming forth. Disbelief, yes, but I don't think there is fear. There may be a good deal of unwarranted expectation, which is perhaps the opposite of fear – or fear expressed more positively – that we are going to somehow solve the problems.

I believe a lot of what we will and will not do once we are present in force, in teamwork, was covered in April.⁴ But now we are talking about a broader perspective. What is the shift? What is not? Who are we? Who are we not, given what we will do once we are there?

In this mass of information and misinformation and fear and expectations, there lies a middle path of spiritually rational truth. And it is that middle path of spiritually rational truth that I wish to discuss.

I believe my colleagues have covered, and will cover, the same material, but they will say it differently. You see, that is the entire point. That is one of the reasons we are coming as a team, because each of us presents the material in a different way, and that means there is a greater chance that one of the presentations will resonate.

This is the same principle as offering the same mobile phone in three or four different colors, in which case we have seven or more different colors, a lot more than the three or four, or offering automobiles in a whole range of colors, with a whole range of colored interiors, or offering paint for the interior of your home in a full range of colors because not everyone wants their living room to have the same color. So that is one of the reasons we are coming forward as a team with the same message presented differently, just as paint is paint even if the colors differ.

Now admittedly you can get higher-quality paint, you can get gloss and semi-gloss and you can get lower-quality paint, but it still serves the same function, and there are various colors serving the same function. We are bringing the same message in various colors. The message we are bringing and the purpose of that message has been covered. I will repeat briefly.

We are coming to answer your questions, to offer our wisdom, because we have traveled further down the spiritual path than you have. We are coming to advise you as you plan for a new civilization, which you shall build in this new frequency that is "the shift." And we will guide you, offering pointers here and there as you build this new civilization in the rising frequency that is "the shift." That is our function, that is our commitment and we do so to aid your spiritual growth, because it is that spiritual growth and spiritual maturity which will lead you to work in groups that are in harmony with Mother Nature, with other dimensions and with each other. Exploring each of those aspects could fill a book, and has, one way or another.

Therefore, addressing those who say we will not come, well, they have their opinion. If they are certain we are not here and we are not coming, they will not find us. Nor will they believe those who say we are here. That is fine, because we are addressing those who are ready to acknowledge that we do have a partnership with humanity, that we are elder siblings, that we are further down the road and that we have come for the purposes stated.

Those who expect us to resolve all problems we can work with, for they admit that we exist. We will manage their expectations and help them find the beautiful strength that lies within, so that they can take up the brush and begin to paint, if I may continue my analogy. That is our side of the equation.

Our relation to the shift is that the shift is creating the challenge of transition, as well as the impetus for transition. This shift is offering the opportunity for advanced spiritual growth as your personal frequencies rise to match the rising frequency of Mother Earth. And I do hope that by now you understand that this shift is Mother Earth moving to a higher frequency, Mother Earth and all she supports and gives life to – from the mineral kingdom through to the dimensions that are not yet open to most of humanity, the dimensions that will open to human awareness.

It is this change in frequency that offers the challenge and the impetus for spiritual maturity as consciousness expands, and we have also spoken on consciousness.⁵

Fear is one of the least useful responses to the fact that the shift is taking place. It would be better to understand the next question, "Over what period of time is this shift taking place?" And that is an estimate of three generations. There are concerns about institutional collapse rather than institutional transition. If you have three generations, you do have an opportunity to evaluate the current situation, a chance to analyze and determine what is best and good for humanity as a whole and what is not beneficial, what needs to be included in your new civilization and what can be let go as simply a remnant of the past.

You can plan. You can create a transition strategy. You can pass your knowledge on to the generations that are coming, and you can tell them of us – those who will advise and guide, teach, explain, answer questions, etc.

You might ask, "Once the shift has been completed and Mother Earth and all on Mother Earth and in Mother Earth are comfortably situated in a new frequency, are we going to leave?" And the answer to that is no.

We are using this as an opportunity to reclaim a partnership with humanity that was lost in the time of Atlantis. And we feel that humanity's spiritual maturity is such that you are ready to maintain this partnership and take advantage of what we offer, without abusing what we offer or having expectations that are unrealistic. We believe that you have, as a whole, the spiritual maturity to see this period of shift as a transition, an opportunity to live through a momentous time for human spiritual development, a time when you can begin to practice all you know in your soul as truth.

You see, that is the truth of the shift – the rise in frequency bringing you closer to the reality of communication with your soul – and we are there to assist and answer questions. That is the truth of the middle path. It is you, humanity, who is in partnership with Mother Earth, finding and traveling this middle path as the old frequency transitions to a new frequency, as you live through the rise in frequency and see the changes in your children and grandchildren. This shift is not going to be complete for three generations. It is not a three-week process, or a three-month process, or even a three-year process.

Give yourselves three generations and you will begin to see what being human is really all about. You will see the connections you have with the dimension of your soul, with the dimension of those of us who are further down the path, with the dimensions of the Devic-Angelic Kingdom. You will experience the partnership you have through these dimensions:

- through the Devic Kingdom, a partnership with the essence of Mother Earth, and
- through the spiritual dimension – our dimension, your soul's dimension – a partnership with the essence of Mother Earth.

You will find that either path leads you back to Mother Earth. Once you realize that, you will begin to live in spiritual maturity, you will realize that you have a great responsibility for harmonious relationships with each other, and with the rest of the cosmos.

I thank you.

Master St. Germain

Master Djwhal Khul ...

There is much to be said about the relationship between the shift and what I shall call an expanded externalization of the Spiritual Hierarchy. By this time, if you have been reading what we have been saying, you know that the shift is indeed Mother Earth raising her vibration. This is a normal and cyclic event.

Cyclic does not mean that the timing is always consistent. Allow, please, for variation. But the pattern is cyclic and the focus of this shift is the rising of vibrations and all that implies for all life associated and dependent upon Mother Earth – all life. I suspect human beings have thought of this primarily in relationship to their own existence, but it covers the plants, the animals, the minerals, the atmosphere, etc.

And if you have been reading, you have, I would imagine, a very good picture of our role as we come forth. We advise, we guide, we answer questions, we offer opinions on plans and projects that you might bring to our notice. We work, and will work, with groups. We will not work with groups exclusively, but I will say primarily.

Now what I would add that I think my colleagues have not covered is the fact that this rise in vibration from Mother Earth makes it easier for us to construct, with the help of the Devic Kingdom, our relatively permanent physical bodies. A great deal of energy is expended to construct such bodies and maintain them. As Mother Earth's vibration rises, it becomes easier and easier for us to maintain these bodies. So that is one relationship of the shift and our expanded externalization.

We have not yet come up with a consistent term for what we are doing. It has been called the emergence, it has been called a coming forth, it has been called externalization. Until we come up with a consistent term, I am thinking that those of you reading this have sufficient grasp of what is happening to be able to discuss it and describe it and work with the fact that we will be there, walking among you, available to those who have the intuition and/or the determination to find us and work with us.

These events are coming. While compartmentalized, they are coming as a package. The compartments of this package are basically:

- the shift and those activities related to the shift, and
- the emergence or externalization and those activities related to the emergence or externalization.

Each of these package compartments can be defined, each has been discussed.

The rise in vibration of Mother Earth prepares the human mechanism for easier access to the more rarefied dimensions, to the beings in those rarefied dimensions, and to their own soul-self.

This rise in vibration, this change in the human mechanism, also, quite frankly, makes it easier for human beings to feel physically, emotionally and mentally comfortable in our presence, and makes it more comfortable and easier for us to be comfortable in the presence of the human mechanism. Comfort, I think, is something that has not been much discussed.

Think of it this way: on the physical plane, one becomes accustomed to the altitude in which you live, to the quality of air you breathe. I will not go beyond altitude and air-quality. Anyone who has lived at or about at sea level with, let us call it clear air, unpolluted air at sea level, their physical mechanism becomes accustomed to the air and the altitude of sea level. If they are now making a visit to a village high in the mountains, let us say at 13,000 feet – 3,962 meters – there is a period of adjustment.

There have been movies where altitude sickness is a central theme. There is certainly much written on the phenomenon. This is something under consideration for anyone who wishes to climb mountains. Humanity has no way yet of predicting who will become ill from this rapid change in altitude and who will not.

The point is that the human mechanism needs time to adapt to the higher altitude, and then the human mechanism becomes comfortable at that altitude. It is easier for the human mechanism to return to a lower altitude than it is to come from a low altitude to a high altitude.

I would say that, in some instances, you could liken the altitude adjustment to the human mechanism becoming comfortable in our presence. As we generally have a higher vibrational rate, some might notice the higher vibrational rate and it is possible that some might be uncomfortable. This, however, is not normally the case. Normally, no one can tell the difference.

But turn that around. For us, coming down to a lower altitude, as it were, is where we must make the adjustment. It takes time and energy to adjust comfortably to the vibrational rate that humanity largely inhabits at this time. Our situation is analogous to those who are and consider themselves to be sensitive to energies. You may know such people. You may be one of them.

When you are sensitive to energies, crowded places may very well be most uncomfortable for you unless there is a gestalt of peace and harmony within this crowded venue. So comfort is another factor as to why it is easier for us to emerge now, comfort in the rising vibration of Mother Earth and comfort, quite frankly, with the frequencies that humanity itself is creating as it approaches a milestone of its own spiritual maturity on the path. These changes make it more comfortable for us to return.

Now, is our comfort a major factor in our decision? No, it is not. Yet it is a factor. What we weigh more heavily than our comfort is our energy expenditure to maintain an identifiable form, a consistently identifiable form. That is important. We do not want to be flitting around from this form to that form and into another form.

That kind of change would be as if your friend or advisor arrived with a new face and a new body every time you met. It would require a good deal of discernment for you to detach from the need to see a consistent physical form and penetrate, instead, to the inner soul form. That might be a useful exercise, but at this point we do not feel it would be the best approach.

At this point, we feel that consistency of appearance is part of restoring the alliance, the working alliance, the active working alliance and trust that once existed between the Spiritual Hierarchy and incarnating humanity.

Those are factors that I would like to present as relationships between the shift and our emergence.

I would also like to say that I, with my colleagues, very much look forward to what we will be able to do now that we have reached this point. And when

I say "we," I mean that humanity, and the Spiritual Hierarchy, and those of other dimensions, and Mother Earth have all reached the point where this emergence and this shift can bring us together so that we may work together, move forward together and demonstrate the harmony that is intended as a part of the Plan – God's Plan – for this planet and all the inhabitants thereof.

Thank you.

Master Djwhal Khul

Master Serapis Bey ...

As we discuss the relationship between the shift and our emergence – I shall let others coin new terms – I wish to help put the shift itself in perspective.

My function within the Spiritual Hierarchy is harmonizing. It is harmonizing the new-found needs of humanity due to all the physiological changes that are occurring in the human mechanism.

The bodies of human beings are changing because the vibrational frequency of the planet Earth is rising. As the frequency of Mother Earth rises, the physical bodies of humanity change to keep pace. This must be understood and accepted by each and every one of you who wishes to put the shift in perspective, because the change in the human mechanism is, literally, the starting point for constructing a new, harmonious civilization, a new and harmonious relationship with the cosmos.

As all these frequencies change, all human beings have an opportunity to become more closely connected with, and have easier access to, the wisdom of their own souls, because as their bodies change, their personal frequencies are moving closer to the natural frequency of their souls. Whether consciously or unconsciously, it is each individual's connection with their own soul that inspires the transition to the new civilization, the new age for humanity.

This broad-scale improved connectivity (if I may borrow a mobile phone analogy) is as if all human beings moved from City A, where the average soul reception is three bars, to City B, where the minimum reception is four or five bars, depending. Their soul reception is clearer, their connection is more stable.

That is what has been happening. That is what will continue to happen to humanity as their physical bodies keep pace with Mother Earth, who is leaving the zone of three-bar reception. Incarnated human beings will find themselves in a place where they get four-bar soul reception. What happens then?

That is where all this concern about institutions comes in. Because in this realm of souls, the higher soul-selves look down as they make their plans. They see some of the institutions that have been created in the three-bar reception zone and they say, "Things have to change."

Things have to change because some of these institutions are simply not beneficial for the humanity as a whole.

One of the things I work on is harmonizing the institutions that humanity blends into their daily lives with the spiritual needs of their souls individually, but more importantly, with their spiritual needs as a group.

You will find that the more you connect with your soul – as a group or individually – the more concern you have about your fellow souls. Some would call that "love." That is a dangerous word to begin to use without a proper definition. Let us simply say that there is more concern about sharing, about the well-being of those we know and those we do not know. There is more concern about the common-sense distribution of resources so that we are sharing the resources of Planet Earth, so that we realize we are in this together and that war benefits no one except those who are making the bullets.

My work, in part, is harmonizing the institutions that exist now with the needs of a new humanity whose members are in closer contact with their souls. Existing institutions can change and reflect the new humanity or they can flounder. And some will flounder. Now, is this bad? Is this undesirable?

Well, one of my jobs is making the transition as painless as possible from the old harmony to the new harmony. When horse-drawn carriages went out of style in favor of the automobile, do you think that people were put out of work? I would say yes.

All sorts of businesses were focused on the fact that you had horses. You had to harness these horses. You had carriages. You had to build create carriages, you had to maintain them, you had to have fittings for them, parts, repair services, harness menders, blacksmiths to shoe your horses, hostlers to stable the horses, etc. etc. etc. Were these people put out of work? Yes. Did it happen overnight? No.

Transition is a key word. But in order to make the transition, it is necessary that you understand what you are transitioning from, what you are transitioning to, and why it is worth the pain and disruption this transition creates.

Our economic systems will change. Other institutions will change, because human beings in closer contact with their higher spiritual selves will demand these changes.

That is putting the shift in perspective. That is putting all of these fears of institutional collapse in perspective. What is good and necessary to feed and support a humanity whose members are in closer contact with their souls will remain. It may be repackaged. Wheel makers who made wheels for carriages may have transitioned to make wheels for automobiles. And innovation happened.

That is putting some of these fears, I think, into perspective. Change is the demand that a soul-inspired humanity is making on these institutions. And you will find, when you look back in future years, that this change was bringing about an equality in the nature of sharing and caring for each individual and a reduction of class stratification. All these things will change.

But this transition need not be the shock of walking off the edge of a cliff ... so long as we take the time to build a staircase and make this transition as harmonious as we can. There are leaders out there who can see this and are giving guidance. These are the leaders to listen to. And as my colleagues have well explained, we will be there as well, your team of advisors, elder siblings who have learned much as we traveled our own paths.

I very much look forward to working with those groups who are also focused on harmonizing the transition from old to new, the groups who want to make certain the journey to humanity's new civilization is as pain-free a transition as possible.

Thank you.

Master Serapis Bey

Master Hilarion ...

One of my main jobs – one of my main interests! – is finding the right balance between technology and humanity's spiritual maturity. From that vantage point, I will pick up on my colleague's example.

If humanity, due to this shift, which I think has been explained, if humanity then moves to a vibrational frequency that is the equivalent of "more bars," better communication with their souls and their soul intentions, better communication with God's Plan for Planet Earth, and God's Plan for humanity – and I apologize if the reference to divinity offends – but if humanity reaches the point where they have better communication with those who are more advanced, including their individual souls, then chances improve that they will follow their soul's plans and reach a maturity where it is safe to release technology that has hereto been withheld. I think that is the simplest way of putting it.

If humanity as a spiritual child, sometimes a spoiled spiritual child, grows up to take responsibility, each human being for the others, and learns to appreciate the Oneness in which we live, and begins to understand what it means to be related in Oneness, then we can consider releasing higher technology.

With the release of that higher technology, humanity will have capabilities that they have not had before, capabilities to improve their lives, the lives of their neighbors, the lives of the One and the experience of incarnating into physical-plane Oneness. Those improvements will, quite frankly, change their perspective of the universe.

It is, I would say, similar to the shift from an Earth-oriented solar system and cosmos to a solar-oriented system within an evolving cosmos. Did technology bring this about? Well, the telescope helped. Did improved connection with the soul bring this about? I would maintain yes.

I would maintain that the names you can list – people like Galileo, Kepler – all had soul plans to bring humanity new knowledge and that in each case there was sufficient technology available, be that a physical instrument or the mathematics to do the calculations that needed to be made. As a result, humanity's perception of the universe began to change.

Now these were individuals. I would ask you to imagine what can be done if humanity as a whole advances and everyone experiences clearer communication with their individual souls, clearer communication with the souls of other beings, until they realize what it means to be and live in Oneness. When that happens, what can then be done with technology?

One does not give a child the keys to the car. Children are neither physically, nor emotionally, nor mentally capable of driving. Now, if I may be allowed a little humor, some cynics would say that even when they become physically capable of driving, young drivers are not necessarily psychologically capable. And you see, that is the question that we as elder brothers of the human race must decide. Are our younger siblings responsible enough that we can give them the keys to the car?

As a result of the shift, the rise in frequency of Mother Earth, the alterations in the physical makeup of human beings and the improved communication capacity of human beings, we do hope that we shall indeed see a spiritual maturation, and we have made plans accordingly. Humanity is on the threshold of a massive advance in spiritual maturity, one that will permit the release of technology that many do not even yet dream of.

Will all fears be allayed by technological improvements? The answer to that is no. Will all fears surrounding the shift be dealt with by an increased spiritual maturity, by increased communication, each with their own soul, by an increased realization of Oneness?

Well, I will be honest. Not all these fears will be dealt with given those realizations. Yet those realizations that settle in and become part of humanity's world view will go a very long way in helping both individuals and groups – will help them to understand, predict, cope and respond to the physical changes they will perceive in the cosmos as Mother Earth raises the vibrational frequency in which they live.

Our part, our role, is to be available to advise, guide and answer questions so that those we work with experience broadened realization and greatly narrowed fear. Expanded realization combined with reduced fear will enable each and every individual and every group that works with us to connect with their innate creativity. That creativity will guide humanity to a new civilization where the technology I speak of will become commonplace.

Now, I've used a lot of fancy words and perhaps sentences that are entirely too long. I will boil it down to the fact that as you gain in spiritual maturity, you gain in your understanding of the universe in which you live and you gain in your ability to work together to resolve problems.

Working together, you will quickly find not only the means of coping, but the means of recovering from that which you cannot predict and that which you cannot prevent. All this is part of a spiritual maturation process.

Technology will not resolve everything, but technology can deposit more effective tools in your toolbox. Technology can be your friend and your companion.

However, you have to earn the right to be trusted with the keys to the car. That can and will be done. We intend to be there at your side, advising and guiding and offering you the benefit of our experience and our knowledge and our wisdom, for we have traveled far and learned much. Now we are turning back to walk among you and assist.

Thank you.

Master Hilarion

Lady Nada ...

Being one of the last to speak on this issue of relationship between the shift and our presence among you, I will avoid covering what my colleagues have covered perfectly adequately, have covered, I would say, with clarity.

I would speak today to the divide that has been proposed between those who are ready to move into a higher frequency at this point in time and those who are not. Rather than having a dichotomy – a green and red dichotomy, green meaning go and red meaning stop, green meaning included and red meaning excluded – I would see this move as a matter of potential, as a matter of awakening.

It does not matter how deeply red you may be or how pristine your green is. I see this time in humanity's history as offering an opportunity, and this opportunity can be taken advantage of consciously or unconsciously. I would also view this time in humanity's history as specifically an opportunity for healing, and I don't believe that aspect has been covered.

As I have said in my biography, my focus is healing the pains of the human soul, particularly pain created through belief and adherence to various religious schools of thought, various religious dogmas, various religious practices.

It is the internal self-assessment of the individual that can bring joy or much grief and damage. It is the external practice of various groups that call themselves religions or sects or schools of thought, groups that in one way or another deal with the relationship between humanity and another dimension that is, by their definition, "the Divine." They may not say it is "the Divine," but that is in essence what many claim. So we have the internal damage that needs healing and the external damage that creates, in its own way, an internal trauma to be healed.

This shift, this rise in frequency of Mother Earth, brings individuals not only closer to their own souls, which is important, but also brings them closer to their soul groups where they might find a support system on the inner planes. This closeness to the soul and the soul planes might be sufficient to work toward healing. If, however, the soul itself is resonating from prior-life traumas or this-life traumas, then we may be able to effect healing or the start of healing from the physical plane, for that is where the healing and the balance must manifest and therefore that is where the healing and the balance have a starting point.

Our presence in unity, our presence as a team, our presence in numbers all helps condition the atmosphere, as it were. Our presence, our answers to questions, our guidance, our advice and all these offerings that we bring will help condition the physical plane, the astral plane and the mental plane, the three planes that humanity most frequently inhabits. We can use this conditioning as a leverage for healing.

So while the emphasis is on working with groups and with individuals and on planning for the new civilization, I would say the new civilization must include healers. We can help these healers recognize not only who they are if they have not already recognized the fact that they are healers, we can also help them strengthen their skills, apply their arts and share their knowledge with other healers as groups of healers working consistently together, just as we of the Spiritual Hierarchy will be working consistently together. These groups of healers within humanity can be an extension of what healing we are able to offer from the Spiritual Hierarchy.

The combination of Mother Earth's shift and our expanded presence is an opportunity to heal.

As my friend, my dear friend Master St. Germain has stated, this shift will span several generations. So healing begun now can do great work with souls as they go into the between-life state where further healing can take place, where new intentions can be set and they incarnate again to finish healing, to complete healing or perhaps even turn around and become healers.

It is hard to say whether a healing, an epiphany in one particular incarnation, is sufficient to heal the traumas of the soul. Often it takes more than one incarnation, but the healing must start someplace. In future incarnations, the healing must be demonstrated and it is demonstrated by fulfilling the dharma of the soul, which inevitably includes, in some way, serving others.

The relationship between the shift and our presence becomes synergy for the benefit of humanity. The shift brings rising frequencies, closer communication with one's own soul with one's soul group, which, in turn, brings focus on the intentions of the Plan for humanity through your soul and your soul groups. That closer communication, closer focus, interacts with the conditioning our presence will bring to humanity's mental, emotional and physical planes, interacts and responds to the messages, the advice, the guidance, the questions we are able to answer. The synergy we create together provides healing to those who most need healing.

That is the relationship I would emphasize, the relationship that enables healers to recognize who they are, to improve their skills no matter where their skills are to begin with, and to share this healing with other healers so that groups of healers are able to form, groups that heal humanity, that heal those who have been, in essence, traumatized. This is an opportunity to help many souls find their way forward, get their feet on the ground as it were, and reclaim the God Spark within that it may express itself. It is an opportunity to help bring balance. For every soul that reclaims balance from an imbalanced, traumatized existence, all of humanity benefits.

This is the opportunity I see for us. It is one of healing, healing the heart, healing the mind, healing the body.

Thank you.

Lady Nada

Master Kuthumi ...

We have covered a great deal of what the emergence is about. We have covered, I think, considerable ground as to what the shift is about, and we have talked about how they are related. We have presented our interpretation, our expectations, our hopes. There is not a great deal left to be said. Yet I would like to offer my opinion as to the relationship between the shift and our expanded presence within humanity.

It has been said that the shift enables us to return at this time. I will not deny that, but you see the very fact of these frequencies that enable our return with relative ease also heighten the need for our expanded presence, for those who are going through this shift now, and those who will be living through this transitional shift in years to come, may or may not, in their soul memory, know of the last time Mother Earth experienced one of these vibrational frequency increases.

We can be, therefore, of maximum assistance because we are further down the road. If we do not personally remember the last time one of these vibrational shifts occurred because we were not incarnating on Earth at the time, we have access to what I will call an intergalactic knowledge pool that can give us insights into what is happening that we do not personally have within our own experiences. We can convey that information in various levels of understanding – I would say various levels of a step-down simplification – so that humanity's knowledge can be expanded in this area if the right questions are asked.

So that physical change – which, as Master Djwhal Khual explained, enables us to return with more ease than would otherwise be necessary – also creates the need for us to return at this time. Or if not a need, it at least maximizes our potential aid and assistance because humanity is facing, to all intents and purposes, a unique experience. We have combined our teamwork with the work of those in humanity who see this experience as an opportunity, as an adventure, as a leverage point to enhance the physical world, the total environment into which their own souls and the souls of their soul-group brethren will incarnate.

This can become a very great service to humanity as a whole. If you look at individual souls and soul groups and groups of soul groups, you will eventually get to the point where there is one. There is only one soul group for all of humanity. We can go into the Oneness beyond that, but for this purpose I shall limit it to one soul group for all of humanity. Think about that.

All of humanity is in this together. All of incarnating humanity can be seen as a single soul group, and if all of incarnating humanity is a single soul group, the next most inclusive soul group on the Human Kingdom path of evolution would be a soul group that includes the Spiritual Hierarchy.

We are all in this together. From our perspective, this change, this rise in frequency, is an open invitation and a request for assistance at the same time. We wish to honor this invitation, this request, for we care. As a unit, as a team, we care very deeply about our younger siblings, about them keeping their feet on the ground and keeping their balance as they move forward to build a new civilization.

This new civilization will have many aspects. One of the most crucial is offering a civilization where every single incarnated soul lives in a physical, emotional and mental environment in which spiritual growth and balance are possible. That is the civilization that needs to be built and we who have traveled further down the road have, in essence, missed our opportunity to build that civilization. The total environment necessary to sustain that civilization, including the vibrational frequency of Mother Earth, was not yet ready to be built.

With this change in the frequency of Mother Earth and with the progress that has been made, on the whole, by humanity, our younger siblings will surpass us and be able to say, "We were there. We did the building."

All we can say is that we offered advice and guidance and perspective and encouragement, that we were not the ones who accomplished this feat. This was not our doing. This was not our accomplishment, but as any elder sibling, as any teacher, as any friend offering advice to another friend knows, there is great joy in seeing your sibling, your coworker, your friend accomplish something that was not in the cards for you to accomplish yourself. You have your own life. You have traveled your own path.

We have our accomplishments, but they are not the ones that lie ahead for humanity now. You of humanity are now in position to do something extraordinary, something for which the timing was not appropriate for those currently in the Spiritual Hierarchy to accomplish. This is your project and we will help you in all the ways that we are able and allowed to. This is your moment.

See this transition, please, as a splendid opportunity for you, in groups, learning the beauty and joy of working in groups and building together as a service to others. I think you will find there is very little that is more rewarding than working in a group and building with the service of others in mind.

That is what I will say of the relationship between the shift with the opportunities it offers and the expanded emergence of the Spiritual Hierarchy. We can all do this together, each doing our own part. That is the opportunity that lies before us.

Thank you.
