We need very much now to focus on these new parameters of consciousness and awareness unfolding within the heart of humanity. One should be so lucky as to actually see this occurrence spark and unite and thus begin a movement towards greater unity. We truly exercise our voice to state just what an accomplishment this already feels, for it has been a very, very long journey to this point. Many situations and methods have been applied to reach this point in the emergence of a new and higher consciousness and we feel that its power is beginning to take root and spread.

A long and arduous journey indeed it has been towards this new goal and yet already, it is no longer a goal but a reality taking shape. The goal now is reaching even further, taking deeper and fuller steps into this new consciousness and awareness.

The contagion of light consciousness is what is spreading ... and with it, a happier, healthier outlook. This in turn will put a broader picture into action and we will see the eventual outcome. Our hope is that the spread will reach a zenith quickly and with the pace reinforcing behind it as more people catch the buzz – feeling their hearts uplifted, their strength returned and their minds free to soar to greater heights in solving the issues that face humanity and drag her into less than admirable positions.

We see the soul of humanity and see what great beauty you are capable of. This raises our spirits as we see the veils parted and the weights lifted that bind and tie you down. We know this will but open the path for great opportunities for brotherhood and cooperation.

Can you feel our excitement and the expectation in my words? For that is what we hope to convey. We have much to share and much to organize in how we can further help and aid humanity to further this goal.

Continuously, we have urged our readers to put forth the tone now coming out in evidence, the tone of the new consciousness. It has a ring to it. And we are now saying that it has arrived, that it has sprung into shape and that now we must work together to carry the flag yet further down the field, closer to the goal. This too we see as being yet a matter of time, for the efforts are engaged. You who are part of the Global Network of Light can feel the difference and are affecting those around you to uplift themselves, surge and experience it in turn.

The time has arrived and without further ado or celebration, we step with you and step up the intensity. Please continue with your diligence and allow the light to shine brighter and brighter. We bless your efforts and strengthen them through the network.

Light, love and blessings,

Derisum

The topic this month is one that will bring great clarity to the lightworkers of Earth. The level of consciousness is rising everywhere on planet Earth. This is already bringing changes to the lives of the human family. Awareness is the starting point where human beings start their change. For many years now, there has been an awakening of awareness in the midst of the human family.

This growing awareness works in different ways. First, a desire for change arises in certain human beings. This produces in them a movement towards learning how to change. By having their intuition awakened, they are able to discover and learn new teachings and receive new information from other dimensions.

There are two groups involved in this process of awareness.

The first group is the advanced group of those who teach what they have already learned from other lives and other realms. These are the Masters. The second group is that of those who are searching for a Master, those who are looking for answers which satisfy their desire for change and improvement. All are lightworkers in one way or another because the process of growing awareness, of awakening, increases the light in those who awaken and consequently, it increases the light and vibration that benefit the whole planet.

This process of awareness is unstoppable and contagious in every human being. Even within those who live in the greatest darkness, in the greatest misery, in the greatest abandonment and ignorance, lies the desire for a change towards something better and the feeling that life must be something more than this. That simple desire, that flicker of desire within the souls of people and in their hearts, no matter how deeply hidden, awakens their consciousness and increases their light and their vibration. It makes people open to listen to the wiser voices of the Masters or of those who have a higher level of consciousness. The change comes little by little and the increase in vibration in humans and the planet slowly grows as well.

All this drives you to the new consciousness that needs to be installed in the human family, the awareness that there can be a better way of life, that justice and equality can be achieved, hunger and misery eradicated ... that a fairer distribution of wealth is possible, and a life where each human being can make the most of themselves. That is the new consciousness and the New Earth desirable for humanity to reach. The sooner the vibration rises, the sooner we can see this happening.

Those souls willing to awaken or in the process of awakening are the most inclined to heed the knowledge of those of us who come with the experience to help you accomplish the desired change, one that will take the human family to a better life, a new life and a new era.

Do not stop awakening, do not stop dreaming, do not stop moving to change your reality. We are here giving you support in your process of awakening and wishing that the final result be a most beautiful one for the human family.

Thank you for listening to me.

My dear readers of We Seek To Serve,

It has been a long time since I last spoke to you and it is with great joy that I come once again to talk about this beautiful topic of the new consciousness and awareness. If you are reading these lines, you are indeed a lightworker or you are in the process of becoming one. That means that you have the seed, at least the seed, of awareness in your heart. Humanity has been preparing itself for this moment for eons. There is a process of evolution occurring in the human family, an evolution of their brains, of their minds, of their capacity to be aware of the immaterial world.

At all times there have been people who have been more advanced and therefore have been leaders, spiritual leaders, for the rest. But the capacity, the ability to be spiritually aware is innate in all human beings though it takes a certain degree of evolution, where your basic needs are met, to start thinking and realizing that there are other things in life.

Observing humanity today, we see huge differences existing between the first, second and third worlds. There is a huge difference between a person living in Central Africa and a person living in Northern Europe or New York as far as quality of life is concerned. A large part of the human family is still striving to have their basic needs covered. So there is still a long way to go. But there is a spiritual desire in everyone, an awareness of small inklings to start and of greater aspiration later on.

Awareness grows naturally in a person just as a child develops and evolves in growing up, but it takes learning as well. Watching, learning and choosing whether you like what you are learning or not, and choosing whether you want to change things or not. Humanity's path up to now has been one of growing awareness and still is. It is at a very important turning point now because an enormous number of human beings are choosing how they want to live their future. They are moving from awareness to consciousness.

Awareness is a growing process that has no end. But it also leads to consciousness. When you have a certain degree of awareness, then consciousness comes – consciousness that you have the ability or the means to change your world and so you act upon that consciousness. The human family has been gaining in consciousness in the last years and soon, there will be changes occurring because humanity is ready for them. It is a matter of evolution.

The human family has evolved to a point where people have the consciousness and the desire to change, to change things, a desire to finish with all the darkness, to bring light, to bring love and peace and joy. An awareness that all of this bounty exists and can exist, a consciousness that reality needs to be changed for all to be able to enjoy the privileges of peace, of love and joy and justice.

The next step is to move forward, leaving darkness behind, leaving obsolete mindsets behind, and changing to a new way of thinking, of acting, of living under the new consciousness that is building to this day.

We, the Community of Masters, from our realms, watch your evolution, your increasing awareness, the growing consciousness in your planet. We are all getting ready to be of help when the evolution of your consciousness takes you over the tipping point in asking for our help. This has already been said.

Requests, many and strong, are coming our way. We are getting ready to be of utmost help to the human family of Earth and to bring you all to the point of development that other planets – that are just further along on the path – already have. We can help you make this journey easier by bringing quicker and more effective changes to the human family.

Keep asking for our help for we are ready to come in answer to your requests.

In love and joy, your friend,

Lady Nada

I offer greetings to the readers of this website. Our subject this month is New Consciousness and New Awareness. I would add to that the reason and the benefit and the necessary investment.

The reason for new consciousness and new awareness is a self-preparation for the New World. This is helping you participate effectively and completely in the building of the New World because the New World is not limited to the dense physical plane. The New World goes beyond that into the Global Network of Light which we have already introduced. The New World is multi-dimensional. This multi-dimensionality requires a new consciousness and a new awareness, a consciousness and awareness of the multi-dimensionality.

What are the results? The results are what we have spoken of many times over and that is an environment, a total environment, a multi-dimensional environment that allows the place for every single soul to follow its own path, resolve its own karma, grow at its own pace according to its own plan. That total environment is not limited to the physical plane. But the result of this new consciousness and new awareness is de facto the New World.

The investment. The investment is letting go, looking beyond – beyond yourself, beyond your history, beyond your comfort level – looking beyond and moving forward.

The investment is reaching out with your heart, reaching out with your heart to other human beings, recognizing the degree to which you are connected. And therein is again the Global Network of Light. Understand your place, your connections, your immediate connections. That may be to a group of lightworkers as part of your immediate connections, that may be to no one you would recognize as a lightworker. But you are connected to those in your immediate environment in the physical – your family, your neighbors, your workplace, those you meet as you shop, as you go about your day, those who share the roadways with you.

New consciousness and new awareness is an investment. It does not come upon you like a storm that you survive. It does not come upon you like a gift for your birthday. It does not come upon you like the winning of a lottery.

Developing new consciousness and new awareness is an investment on your part, an investment in your own future and I would say an investment in the joy that can be had simply because you are at this point in time an incarnate human being. Why this point in time? Because this is indeed a major change point for the human family. With all its frustrations, it is a major change. And at this time of major change is your opportunity to make this investment in the new consciousness and the new awareness.

The new awareness can start any place. It can truly start at any place. So you pick the place where you are ready to make an investment of new awareness. You could read a newspaper, listen to the news, read this website, read someone's blog, write your own blog. It does not matter. New awareness is a starting point and you get to pick the area you wish and that area is where you begin to increase your awareness. Perhaps you do research. Perhaps you simply meditate on what you read. Perhaps you start to look for what you now wish to increase your awareness about. Maybe you look for small acts of kindness and you want to increase your awareness about the many, many ways that human beings are kind to one another.

I won't go on, I think you get the point. You pick the starting point. You may wish to be more aware of Off-Earth Allies and their connections, their long, long, long history of connections with Earth and the human family of Earth. Some of us have been here since before the first human souls incarnated into dense physical bodies. We have been with planet Earth that long.

So you get to pick the awareness that you want to start increasing. From awareness comes a new consciousness. I will make a distinction. The one I use – it might not be the one others use, it might not be of use to you, but it is what I use.

Awareness is acknowledgment – to acknowledge a situation, an individual, something that was below the radar for you before, or above the radar, it does not matter. It was not on your radar before. It might be an awareness of the names of the neighbor's children. It does not matter. It is something you were not acknowledging before and you are going to acknowledge now. It is an awareness. Perhaps it is even something as simple as a new hobby. The point is that it's a new awareness and we trust you as lightworkers to make that new awareness something that will eventually enrich yourself and the human family.

New consciousness is awareness that has grown inward like a seed germinating beneath the soil. It grows inward within you as your awareness increases, and new consciousness is when that awareness can no longer be contained only within you but you spread it out like a plant bursting forth from the ground and growing into something beautiful.

Because once you come out of yourself and what you hold within yourself in the awareness category, it becomes consciousness. And that consciousness interacts with and bumps into and overlaps the consciousness of those around you. That new consciousness impacts your fellow human beings, your family, your neighbors, the institutions you work with, the people you meet in the institutions you work with. It becomes not just growth as in increasing awareness, it becomes something that is beautiful and blooming and emanating the light.

And what do you do next? You expand your awareness again. You nurture a new expanded awareness within. And that grows to the point where it too bursts the limit of what you hold inside and radiates out into the world you inhabit. And that becomes new consciousness and that spreads and it works on all levels.

It works in the dense physical and it works and expands into the higher frequencies. And it is there that it truly becomes part of this network of light and enables more and more light to come through to the human family and come through connections to the human family and be anchored down into the Earth.

All of this is the new consciousness and new awareness. And as this new consciousness and new awareness grow, the total environment of this planet changes. It becomes more inclusive. It becomes more receptive to incoming light and it becomes more powerful in radiating light outward into the new environment and the New World.

It begins with you, wherever you choose to start. It does not matter where. But begin. Find an awareness you wish to expand for yourself. No matter how small it may seem, you will find that sooner or later it bursts the bounds of what you do internally and becomes a consciousness radiating beyond yourself.

My blessings on you as you begin this journey into the new consciousness, the new awareness that will lead to the New World. Thank you.

Your friend,

Sho

My dear friends,

My colleagues this month have shared much of value pertaining to the new consciousness and the new awareness.

I would submit to your attention that awareness itself is an ever-expanding faculty, one that has no bounds. At Source, as Source, it is a most rarefied and all-pervasive light that simply IS. At Source, it is a distant cousin – but still a direct relative – of the Global Network of Light coalescing now on Earth. It is your divine prerogative to shine this unifying beam into the dark places and to light the path into the New Country.

Consciousness is also ever-expanding. It is the vessel for awareness throughout all Creation, and it courses in lesser or greater measure through all life forms in every kingdom of every universe. It is through applied consciousness that matter is transmuted. The new consciousness, the new awareness that we speak of are your tools for forging the New Civilization.

So how do you lay the foundation and commence the building? By applying your conscious intent to the task, individually and in any size group formation. And this simultaneously as the doors of intuition, the doors of perception and growing awareness, gradually open before your astonished eyes. Tread ever more confidently into the new light, the Global Light that will allow you to finally shatter and discard all that is broken and no longer serves your world. Or if you must, tip-toe to begin into the divine future that awaits you. The pace is up to you but the journey is inevitable.

Lest we forget, there are certain basic priorities, certain concrete measures to instill. The immediate goal will be to supply each and every one with the basics of life so that all may have the physical wherewithal to develop along their divinely chosen path. This mission will not waiver. Let all be entitled and not just the few, let all be endowed, let all have food and the opportunity to survive and thrive.

For that to occur for every last member of the human family of Earth, it must be with you together as the brothers and sisters you are. It must also occur with the human family of Earth as one amongst others now standing in the wings, ready to guide and quickly assist you in ways the most advanced minds among you have only begun to imagine.

And so in closing, I bid you grasp the hand being proffered and march confidently through the gate into the New Time. Step into the Global Network of Light, each and every lightworker, whatever your passion, whatever your field of service. Open the floodgates to those around you and share as you gradually become aware of the field of Oneness – the playground of infinite possibilities that surround you.

Discover how you, authentically and wholly, have your being in the ever-expanding field of creative service to the world, whatever that may be. And then turn, as we do, to share with those around you. Enlightened service will put this Earth firmly back on the path, and the new consciousness, the new awareness, will guide you.

Come forward at last and be welcomed to the New Civilization. We await you at the gate.
