Category: Challenges Facing The Human Family

The vision that we get from our side of the veil of what's going on on planet Earth with the human family and the Global Network of Light is indeed very positive. We are seeing the growing energy and vibration of the Earth, we are seeing a growing number of points of light that represent active lightworkers radiating with increasing power, uniting together, creating a denser Network of Light every day.

This lightworker activity is extremely positive and it helps us greatly in performing our task of planting those seeds that are so important on Earth, in the human family or in your decision-makers. Those seeds will bear fruit and allow the needed change to be accomplished. Many of those seeds we have already planted are being fruitful. We can see that.

There is a growing rejection of your institutions, a dissatisfaction with your decision-makers, with the political systems, with how the care of the planet is being administered. There is a growing discontent within the human family concerning the general situation, with your political leaders, and there is an implicit desire for change in all of these protestations.

We also see a growing level of anxiety, especially in all the so-called "civilized world," about what's happening, about the surprising results of the American election, for example, or about many other things going on in the European Union, in Latin America, Africa or Asia. There is anxiety and this leads to action, to movement and change.

The seed that we can plant is the seed of love, love of oneself, love of the planet and the other kingdoms that inhabit her. Love that makes you raise your awareness about the damage inflicted on the planet and the other kingdoms, and even on the human family by part of the human family. When you become aware – from the vibration of love – of this damage, you begin to see the reality that surrounds you and consequently want to stop this aggressive progression of events.

Then the people mobilize, not everyone, but many who have volunteered in this lifetime to walk the first steps of change. They are already moving. More will follow and hopefully all or a great number of the human family will decide to move ahead as well – to walk out of their comfort zone and ask for, request these changes.

Those are the seeds that we have planted up to now, the seeds of love. But we are also working with those persons who can favor those changes – scientists, doctors, philosophers, writers and even some politicians with whom we are collaborating, soul to soul, to convey to them the necessary inspiration to allow the making of new discoveries which will help the human family advance. They are clues to help situate them in the correct direction to reach those discoveries, so vital for the changes desired.

In that sense we are all working and we see that humanity is getting ready for us to walk the next steps.

As we always say, do not be afraid, keep calm and keep your eyes wide open to those changes, your physical eyes but also the eyes of the mind, the eyes of the heart, the eyes of the soul so that you can know what is good for you, can discern which of the things going on are positive, so that you can see the positive even in the darkest events.

Open the eyes of your soul, of your consciousness, of your intuition and wait. We are on the way, help is on the way.

Thank you for listening.

Dear Friends and Readers,

Planting seeds is our topic in this first issue of 2017, the seeds of awareness. It is up to each of you to accomplish this personally, in and from your own hearts. Many have done so already and humanity is on the march. And so, like that deep-buried seed, awareness is growing worldwide. It is struggling toward the light and it will not be denied.

It is up to each of you to find and nurture that seed of awareness planted in your heart. For many, it will be a re-kindling, a remembrance of your divine status. But just as a candle must be touched by fire to be lit, there are moments of pain and discomfort before you surface into the New Light. This is inevitable but we of the Community and Earth Allies who have been through it before are here to help.

You who are willing to grow into awareness are seeds in the Global Network of Light that continues to expand. We have many times said that light – awareness – is contagious. And so it is that complete families and communities are now building, on the ground and in the mindbelt, the fabric of the New Civilization.

This is a complex undertaking and much must seem disjointed and contradictory to you now, but it will not be long until this picture begins to come into better focus. Push, my friends, push on through the darkness and discomfort, into the light of the New Day.

We have talked much of breakthroughs you are approaching as you shed all that no longer serves from the past, all that is corrupt and so obviously bankrupt in the ways you conduct your current affairs. We have encouraged you to embrace the plan for your collective survival and indeed your very flourishing in the New Time that beckons. The plan cannot and will not fail.

Your destiny, your mission, is to grow into a new awareness of the path, into the greater light divine for this planet, just as it is the destiny of green shoots to break into the light of day.

Your friend and brother,

Morya

There is a shifting of the plan. The results of the light work done have caused this shift, and we are pleased to be able to share information yet again that these efforts are making a difference. The tremendous actions by lightworkers the world over have continued to connect and build this continuum into a force that can and will enact such a difference ... a difference that hope has created and hope will carry along.

We truly begin with a gesture of brotherhood and as this brotherhood grows, we are able to feel the strengthening of this bond and therefore the strength of the work that we can create together to raise humanity's vibration overall.

My friends, we are beginning to go down a new road and this new road is the way to bring humanity to a positive change and to build the grandest of bonds, bonds that once long ago were the status quo for humanity and us, your brethren. This gives us great hope, for the strength of this bond is the foundation to a bright future.

Your Off-Earth Ally friends are all observing the goings on at this time with great interest and happiness. We see that the Global Network of Light is growing and that the light it emits is pushing past former boundaries day by day. So, with expansion week by week, this will obviously reach more and more recordable points of progress.

My friends, I feel compelled to share that we are a bit surprised but even further delighted. For the work ahead of humanity was not seen as an easy task, nor has it ever been considered possible to make such a difference so quickly. Thus we bask in a steady light, we observe the effects and we have tremendous respect for what has been done so far. And we implore you that this effective measure continue in full force. Please spread your wings further and find time in the days ahead to make more and more light grow. This is our wish and what we ask of you.

The days grow darker in some ways, but with the light that lightworkers are instilling, growing and spreading, there indeed is a great and growing hope for humanity. Thus, the work in its success must remain steadfast and firm.

Thank you,

Philohstan

Greetings, my dear friends,

I would open my part of the discussion by stating once and again that you, the human family of Earth, are not bereft or alone. You are at the turning of a great wheel, the ending of one Earth cycle and the beginning of the next. Hence much confusion, anguish and fear of the unknown. To many of you still, the future seems unclear and quite possibly dim. Is this not so?

And yet, as we have been reporting, it is not so. A corner has been turned. Know that any sense you may have that you are standing on the threshold of a greater future is accurate. I invite you to cultivate that feeling.

With your assent of course, it is the duty and the mission of the Community of Spiritual Masters to lead the way, and many, many, are the Off-Earth Allies who have been summoned here to assist and protect you as you negotiate your way into new realms of accomplishment. Do not fall prey to the term "aliens," the ludicrous bogeymen constructs of your governments and Hollywood. These fictions are deliberately fabricated and sown to keep you simultaneously pacified and controlled. This type of manipulation has ever been practised by those who would remain the "ruling" classes and protect their privileges, all down your history. Is this too not so?

We, your elder brothers and sisters of the Off-Earth group are here to help with our experience and our extended view. We are delivering as swiftly and deftly as cosmic law permits the gifts of our advanced civilizations to assist you. But we are hampered and constricted by your own mindsets, attitudes, actions and still-destructive bent. Like children playing with matches, you cannot be entrusted with the most potent keys to progress until you literally renounce war on this planet. Let it be soon!

But pardon me, for I digress. Our topic today is planting seeds, and with the continued expansion of the Global Network of Light, the ground is fast becoming very fertile! So I would ask you to stretch a bit and open your hearts and minds even further to us and to brothers and sisters of your own human family. Find ways to escalate being a lightworker, which will nudge others to begin.

One thing you can do is look to and help build the model of successfully-operating groups, or help transform those within which you already operate, including elemental groups such as your families, schools or workplaces. Let me be more precise: by “successfully operating,” I mean groups operating out of mutual trust, respect and co-operation toward some concrete betterment of your world. This is a very good way to grow the Global Network of Light and pull in more and more hands to the task of world renewal.

And as you open your hearts and minds to one another, as you strengthen the network of trust and light, know that we stand by you – ready, willing and able to assist you along the path you are lighting for yourselves.

This is our gift, our invitation to you.

Your brother, Derisum

My dear lightworkers – those who already are, those who are becoming lightworkers and those who will be – it is time to unite your efforts with ours, making the most of the increasing vibration of your world, which makes it easier for us to collaborate with you. It is time to work as a team, you and us. This increase in vibration on your plane allows us to reach a better communication with you. It also favors a desire for change, a desire to move – it favors action.

To use an analogy, you get the land ready and plant some seeds, then we come after you and we plant other seeds, different ones, seeds we know can help you to change. We have planted some already and are planting many more. We will water these seeds with vibrations of love, with vibrations of hope and of knowledge, and we will be patient. We are waiting and will wait to see how these seeds, planted with love and watered with love and light, tended sometimes at great sacrifice, begin to sprout and produce those green shoots Master Morya was speaking about some time ago (WeSeekToServe Open Forum, June 2015) and mentions again in his message in this issue.

Those sprouts of change will break through the Earth's crust, the crust of darkness, and will foster change. They will give you the strength, the courage, the energy, the clarity of vision and better criteria to begin making the changes needed to achieve that New Earth, that better world, that more fulfilling and complete life ... starting as newly-born plants that shoot out of the earth with strong stems. With time and patience we will have a marvelous crop of strong plants, of nourishment for the soul, nourishment for the greater human family.

So here we are, all of us working side by side to manage to save humanity and achieve unification in the human family. The human family is beginning to unify to achieve this objective. All of you in different parts of the planet, in different ways, each in your own way, all of you are beginning to collaborate with your personal change and with the change in what surrounds you. You are beginning to work in the plantation so to speak, on that crop that we wish to be rich and grow full of wonderful fruits.

This has been done on other planets, and it has been done on planet Earth at some moments of its history – exceptional moments that fostered a change, a shift in the evolution of humanity in previous times. Those changes, those shifts, somewhat abrupt and surprising or unexpected, have been favored by us in cooperation with you, with souls that have incarnated in each such lifetime to foster those changes. And that is also happening nowadays, in a different way for we are in an era of rapid communications, of social media, of speed in everything, in knowledge, in the transmission of news and events and where everything, even the smallest thing, gets magnified, be it good or bad. We need to focus this work now in this way for that will yield great results.

That is why we have the hope that the good things, the good seeds magnify and propagate and that they rapidly reach from one end to the other of the planet so that the changes can take place faster than at other times of your history.

Therefore be prepared for rapid changes. Know that everything responds to a plan for the salvation and unification of the human family, to a plan made with love.

With love, I bid you farewell.

My blessings,

Mother Mary

It pleases us immensely to be speaking to you at this time and to be telling you that our words for you are news of a positive nature and reality. We have measured and observed remarkable seeds of change sprouting through the planes that involve humanity and humanity's progress. We feel the need for those who work diligently to put efforts to palm to realize the effect of their actions.

The light is showing, it is gleaming out from corners and bearing its weight in ways that feed the Global Network of Light. The connection is deepening and serving to maintain grip on all who participate in this new practice of giving.

So we thank you all for your efforts and wish to give you this report that the light work has paid off, the light work is sprouting new life and the light work is growing this new life into a stronger unity that will springboard a plethora of fresh new connections ... thus broad-banding the initial connections into something more complete and more strongly connected.

This is the very leverage we need to thrust humanity forward. It is indeed a nurturing factor and by all laws of nature compounds its effects to draw forth permission for our help. In turn, we can compound our efforts to make your work bear deeper yields. And yes indeed, this is worth celebrating and sharing.

My aim is to make clear to you that while much has been accomplished to date and is in practice making inroads towards a brighter future, we need to continue all together in this vein and to further strengthen the light. The sprouts of light need further nurturing to grow and to continue to grow. The growth must go on and reinforce the burgeoning light work.

We pledge our actions to the cause of a better humanity, and this Network of Light is producing the much needed results to truly give hope for humanity's future. The stretch of time from now until this brighter future depends on how much more light we can successfully transmute to alleviate the darkness.

We trust that efforts will remain strong and thus results will follow suit and the world will take on a new and beautiful shape. Please have faith in your power to create the needed light and lead humanity to brighter days.

Thank you,

Lady Nada *
