All We Ask Is That You Listen

Mother Mary

I am Mary. I would have a message to the readers of WeSeekToServe.

There has been a great deal said about the shift and about the world today. These things are being said by two different groups of people. I will call the first group the spiritually aware people who are expecting to be led to a new dimension, a new world that does not have the downside of including the portion of the human population that is not so spiritually aware. I would like to make it perfectly clear that this is not the case. The human family will not be split. This is important to remember and to realize. What happens to one happens to all.

What we need is to unite the human family. Unite them in love, in respect, in adherence to some basic laws of reality in living together on one planet.

We from the Community of Masters have been saying for several years now that the goal of the human family is Oneness. We have been saying that the energies that bind the human family together cannot be disbanded and go away at your convenience. This means that one group cannot start slaughtering another group and call it justified. This cannot be. One group cannot impose their will and supposed superiority on another group and call it justified.

It is time that the human family of Earth begins to understand and practice the ramifications of being One. This must be done. There is no other choice if humanity is to move forward.

Unity must be established and that established unity must flow through the cities of the world, through the refugee camps of the world, through the landscape and jungles and forests and river deltas of this world. The unity must be made to exist because the human family of Earth chooses, of free will, to begin to live in unity.

Today, we have a great chaos upon this planet. We, from our perspective, see how damaging this chaos is and see how far it can spread. Why then, is it so difficult for the second group, the political and economic and religious leaders of this world, to imagine that they have a significant role to play in relieving the human family of this chaos? Why? We do not understand.

From our perspective, the perspective of those who love humanity but are in a position where all we can do is sit and watch, we would welcome an invitation to come and discuss the possibilities for moving forward to a better, more equal world. A world of equal opportunity for spiritual fulfillment for all, a world where no one imposes beliefs on another. We would have the violence against other human beings be put to an end. This we would have.

Where is the band of leaders who will acknowledge our existence and listen to what it is we have to say? That is our question. One way or another, we, on our side, have worked with human beings for some time. We have had meetings, we have had teachings. Yet we are not on the invitation list when conferences are held about dealing with the violence, the oppression and the slaughter that ensues day after day.

We are here. We are able to assist with our guidance and our experience. If you would, we have maps that will give you options for extricating yourselves from the impenetrable forest of hate and violence. The maps are free, but they are not necessarily easy to follow. The cost of extricating yourselves is steep because you have become so deeply entrenched in the attitudes of war. But these maps do exist and we offer them for free. All you need do is ask and listen with open ears.

Thank you.

Please be willing to gather, you who make the decisions about war, about oppression of other human beings, you who cry for peace and freedom. We are ready to share our perspectives and our experience.

With hope and blessing,

Mary^{*}
