

Sanat Kumara's Responsibilities And History

My Icon

I requested a collage of Earth with people and representations of various kingdoms. To date, exactly what I had in mind has not been found. But I will not delay my messages until my ideal is located. This current icon suggests the multi-dimensional nature and livingness of this planet and that will do. It is the vast variety of life and lives associated with Earth that I wish to convey.

Current Responsibilities

I am one who is hardly unknown. I think that my focus and responsibilities are equally well known. Yet I would have a word or two for visitors to this website.

My overall responsibilities are, in essence, the spiritual evolution of this planet. Not that I initiate events but that I assist the Great Evolving Being I shall call the Earth-Soul who vivifies this planet for the purpose of spiritual evolution.

The one you know as Mother Earth is the living physical embodiment of this Great Evolving Being, this Earth-Soul much as you are the living physical embodiment of your personal soul. The Earth-Soul's mission, and thus Mother Earth's mission within the divine plan is to create a living library, a study and educational center for this part of the cosmos. And as such Mother Earth has a special place in the stellar order. It is a great honor to serve her, to be of assistance to her and the responsibility she has undertaken to be a significant part of the unfolding divine plan for our universe.

You experience only Earth's physical side – the one you see each day and use each day. However, Mother Earth as a living, evolving entity has many other facets ... many more beyond her physicality which should be important to you, dear readers, to be fully aware of. I will speak about those facets in future lectures to make you understand the importance of a holistic view of your beingness in conjunction with the multi-dimensional view of Mother Earth.

When it comes to spiritual evolution, until such time as every spiritual being has thoroughly and completely reunited with Source so that there is only Source and only One and all the learning of this universe is complete, until that time every one of us is evolving. This must be clearly understood. Learning and evolution does not cease. Responsibilities to serve do not cease. Like the proverbial energy, they only change in form. And this is important in the context of what my focus is and what my responsibilities are.

I am an embodiment on the etheric plane of the Great Evolving Being, the Earth-Soul who vivifies Mother Earth and sustains her life. It is to this being that I am responsible. I am One with this being, but I am not this being in total.

My responsibility is to orchestrate, oversee and implement the plans for the spiritual evolution of this planet according to the divine plan of this cosmos. That includes all kingdoms, all beings associated with this planet. This includes those from the tiniest subatomic particle as you describe them to every kingdom you are familiar with – mineral, plant, animal, human – and into the kingdoms that live in the dimensions that science does not yet measure and the textbooks do not yet include. There, for example, I will incorporate the Angels, the devas and others that you may not have heard of. It is my responsibility to coordinate the spiritual evolution of all this based on the divine plan.

As has been oft stated, Mother Earth is undergoing what is commonly called a shift. This is a leap forward in frequency and as the frequency of the planet expands, consciousness expansion becomes possible for the Earth-Soul, the Great Evolving Being who vivifies Mother Earth. As the Earth-Soul's consciousness expands, all the kingdoms associated with Mother Earth respond to the expansion and find their frequencies rising.

However, the human kingdom has the free will to resist this change. And therein lies my focus as it pertains to speaking on this site. I wish to add my voice to the voice of other panelists who are speaking to the human family through this forum. That is why my focus for the moment includes participating as a panelist on this website.

It is vital that the human kingdom as a whole, the human family as One recognizes the need to raise the frequency not of any individual but of the whole. And if everyone worries only about themselves or perhaps themselves and their friends, then we are in for a very rough time for a very long time and we do not really have a very long time because a cosmic window of opportunity is closing.

I wish to avoid the rough time for humanity that has been visible to many of you over the past few years. I wish to make it clear that humanity has come to a major crossroad and it is the exigency inherent upon reaching this crossroad that compels me to personally communicate to you through this website. Thank you.

Favorite or Significant Life

My past significant life. I would change that to be the significant experiences that are outstanding in my memory. I will limit this, as others have limited it to a specific human life, a specific time frame, I will simply limit this to a significant and I would say formative experience in my existence.

I am one who is known on the inner planes as a preparer, that is one who prepares. At times we are administrators or architects or general contractors or construction workers depending on what needs to be done. There are many of us. I don't think we are often called by any particular name except among ourselves. Our job is literally that, to prepare for the next stage of evolution whether that is to prepare a planetary vehicle for manifestation or to prepare a planet for a major spiritual milestone as I am doing now. In your world if someone is, let us say, going through a major life event, a wedding, a bar or bat mitzvah, the birth of a child, preparation is needed.

When it comes to spiritual evolution, preparation is needed for significant milestones in the spiritual journey. Now, one of those milestones is the initial vivification of a vehicle for manifestation. These are fancy words which can be translated in human terms into being born.

But let us apply this evolution to the planet Earth. There were preparers who shaped the physical vehicle that you call Mother Earth and they prepared the various dimensions, those that you are aware of and your science measures and includes in the textbooks and those that are not included, at least not yet. When the preparation was complete, the Great Evolving Being, the Earth-Soul with the power to vivify entered its vehicle of manifestation and the planet became the living, evolving Mother Earth you know. That was the beginning.

I think the significant event that most closely relates to what I am focusing on now is my coming to this planet. Yes, as has been oft written, I did come from Venus, I did not come alone. But I did come.

As Mother Earth evolved, she reached the point where it was time to prepare for a major spiritual milestone. She could have chosen to coordinate the necessary preparation of all allied kingdoms herself. However, she chose to request an administrator to coordinate the long, intricate preparation. The Earth-Soul and I were aware of each other from my work on Venus. I was asked if I would take on the position and I accepted.

My purpose was then and is still to prepare Mother Earth and all the dimensions of Mother Earth for what is taking place now, the great advancement in frequency that indicates the approach and transitioning of a significant milestone. My work has all been to that end. The organization, the guidance, the planning has all been to that end.

So the coming to this planet with the responsibility of preparing the physical manifestation of the Earth-Soul, i.e. Mother Earth, for that required evolutionary leap was a great responsibility, a great pleasure, a great challenge in my own spiritual journey to be responsible for preparing a living planet like Mother Earth for the transition of a major spiritual milestone.

That preparation includes the coordination of activities so that all affiliated kingdoms of this planet, all kingdoms and all parts of all kingdoms keep pace and move forward together so that the being who gives this great planet life can smoothly transition through this milestone. It has been my pleasure to be so honored and trusted as to make preparations for this step.

I would like to add that as of now in the year 2015 the majority of the human family of Earth is resisting the rise in frequency and everything that the rise in frequency requires in assessing, repairing and equalizing relationships among the members of this human family. That is why I wish to speak. I would have a written record of what I explain, what I advise and how I will guide if I am allowed. It is my hope that the members of the human family will listen in sufficient numbers that the window of opportunity will not be lost.

I thank you very much.
