A great net is forming ...

Across the world
there are thousands of points of light just like you thousands now and growing daily growing in light, growing in love, in connectedness – feel it.

Feel it, sense it
see in your mind's eye
– travel there, open the door to your own higher and immortal Self to your own becoming to the call ...

The note is sounded and thousands of you are finding the way thousands and daily more connecting, connecting in the field of light each a point, a node in the new family of Earth emerging.

Feel this your Oneness, sense your belonging your Earthly family uniting one upon one in the new light.

Tarry a moment and bask
for here we dwell and welcome you your star families throughout the starry universes communicating with you, to you, our gift of love and light and Oneness.

I am Philohstan, your brother from afar, from the constellation of the Eagle, and I bring you this communication this day. I recommend that you read it slowly, perhaps three times, or three days. Center in your heart, for there you will find us, ever with you, ever yours.

My dear friends and readers,

Once again I want to address you on this topic which is so dear to me, on coming closer to you, a topic that I think will bring you calmness, tranquility, peace of mind and spirit. A topic which will let you know that you're not alone, that we have listened to your requests, that we are coming closer, and even that some of us are already working on Earth. This is great news to you all. Many of us in the Community of Masters and our Off-Earth Allies are already doing our job to help the human family come out of the darkness and move forward.

This is a big step for humanity, made of many small steps by each one of you, made of many steps from each of us, who are committed, are pledged to support the advancement of the human family. In many areas can we influence and help and it is in many areas that we are working already, not as much as we would like perhaps, but we have to be respectful of cosmic laws.

But this is a process that once begun won't stop. Your requests have made the light coming from the Global Network of Light increase very quickly, which allows us to come closer and work more freely to help you.

On my side, it is the principle of love, unconditional love for you and towards one another – no matter the differences in color, religion or ideas – and the idea of all of us being One and being the same, of being brothers and sisters, that I want to spread and to share with all of you. I tried already to change and spread this idea when I incarnated as Jesus of Nazareth. It has been my main goal to anchor this idea of Brotherhood in the human family. And it still is.

There must be no differences between you, the members of the human family. You are One, one and only one human family. All of you human souls have incarnated at this time on Earth for a very clear purpose. Please look through the eyes of your souls and see that this is the way out of darkness. We on our side keep inspiring all of you. We are supporting the lightworkers who are inspiring other human beings who have not yet awakened their consciousness. Be assured that we are already working, that we come closer every day to you and to working together with you.

We, the Community of Masters and our Off-Earth Allies, are working with the Global Network of Light as a team, and I mean a team. Our common goal is to increase the light of the human family of Earth to bring them out of chaos and darkness, as they have asked us and as we wish to do. That is also our wish.

Do not lose hope that the change is indeed possible. Let us all work together in moving into the new era, the New World, to the new and one human family in Oneness.

My blessings to you all. Thank you,

Master Yeshua

Dear Readers,

We have made it clear that this year is one where we intend to come closer to the human family. The question is: What does "closer" mean? And that is what I would like to answer from my perspective.

I believe that many of us for a long while have been very close to the hearts of those who would be reading this, and of lightworkers around the globe who do not even know this website exists. Yet we are close to their hearts and they are close to us.

In this year, it is vital that we become closer, that the communication between us become more open and alive, vibrant, inclusive. It is time that those who are close to us heart-to-heart also understand that the evolving situation in the world today, that the evolving consciousness of those who are lightworkers, that the ever-evolving consciousness of the human family includes the fact that we, who have in many degrees been silent with direct communication, now become visible and vocal. We can do this in many ways. Master Morya has begun with a Twitter account in Spanish for our Spanish-speaking sisters and brothers: @elmoryaviamayra

It is time that the rest of us also begin to think about what a Twitter account can do for us. The Facebook account is now beginning to receive comments from those who follow and do read the short extracts from WeSeekToServe. So it is that we become more alive, more alive in the mental images of the human family, vibrant and living, if we communicate in the same media that people expect communications today.

This website has served its purpose and for a while we do anticipate that it will continue to serve. But there are other means of getting brief messages out to the human family, to let more and more and more people know that we have not become de facto history and that the words of history are not the only words we have. No. We are alive today and vibrant.

When I say alive, I do not mean that we have incarnated and that you can look up Mother Mary in the phone book. No. But we are alive in our own realm and we are working for the benefit of the entire human family from our own realm. And the communication must be opened up between that realm and the human family and we have to expand. We have to expand and we will use our trained channels and we will begin to have other means of communication.

We want more and more of the human family today to know that we exist, that we are working, that we are working with various members of the human family in what ways we can to guide, to encourage, to strengthen. In this troubled time, it is important that those who see the light and know the light in their heart can be strengthened. If they listen to their soul for guidance, they still will benefit. They still call out to be helped, to be strong to face the many, many challenges before the human family.

So what we wish to do is to expand our ability to communicate to as broad a swath of the human family as we can. And to do that, we must begin looking at the communication methods that the human family is using today.

We are not likely to buy mobile phones and begin texting. But there are other means. We are following Master Morya's lead. We will see how a Twitter account works. We have an obligation as elder sisters and brothers to do our very best to communicate clearly, effectively with love to bring light. So this is an expansion that we wish to make.

How fast will that happen? It is hard to say. But we know the challenge is there in front of us and we are up to that challenge.

In love and light from my deepest heart,

Mother Mary

The platform we are racing towards is coming into view ... quite a bit more clearly and solidly. Thus it is time to reach out and communicate with our friends and family in the human kingdom ever more so. We understand that means of communicating have changed over the last few years and changed immensely since we last walked the Earth. We need to make use of these viable new means of communication and are doing so step by step as we expand our reaches.

Please be patient with our old-fashioned methods as they still and will always apply, but we will simply expand our usual methods and continue to blend in more and more with how humans are communicating now.

Twitter, You Tube and Facebook to name a few, are expanding our avenues for communication but also for two-sided dialogue as well. We know that it is important in the coming age to have that dialogue and allow humanity to participate with us more fully ... to ask questions and therefore feel better heard and understood.

It is our great pleasure and honor to be taking these steps at this time, though they have been long in order. Much has been put into place and re-aligned to come to this position. We cannot say enough to those of you lightworkers who have helped make this possible, even striveable – if one can understand the ‘take’ on that word usage. Many have worked in stife to produce these effects in other words, but they generated that inspired environment and then followed through.

So now we can go to the next steps and make closer communication with humanity. Much closer and more interactive. We alone cannot make the changes to the world to happen. We can guide and encourage, offer legions of wisdom and never ever give up. There are those who keep stride with us and know that we continue to work towards unity despite all appearances. This we hold with good measure. And today, as we take note of the progress, we also congratulate you collectively on the success we know will take place in the next wave of actions.

This is our goal ... to help humanity know and feel that they are understood and heard, with actions taken to give them aid to this means. We too, though, hope to see humanity stepping up to the plate in their forms of expression and thus furthering the cause and inspiring all. It works both ways and thus we shall optimize the process.

Imagine a ball sitting at the top of a hill. It teeters, it wavers, it hesitates ... and finally it tips over the edge and rolls with ever increasing speed. We can say that this is how the lightworkers have influenced the guidance that will aid humanity, the positive light that will jumpstart you past barriers into an ever-increasing bid for unity and clarity ... once again ... despite all appearances.

We do encourage those who can to expand their knowledge in the use of common media, in creative ways to further spread the important bonds of unity. Find common threads to link your groups to your other groups ... and mushroom the cause.

We have a trusted team who will facilitate these forms of communication and keep the flow open, keep the questions addressed and serve to facilitate a faster yield. Can you feel how excited we are at the possibilities that lie in wait here?

We certainly do, and we encourage you to reach out beyond your comfort zone and ask the questions that will help you to come to an understanding within yourself and use this to help those around you also come to an understanding. Let's rejoice at this sharing, let's rejoice at these possibilities. The world is changing because of new forms of communication and we are pleased, ever too pleased to foster this.

This is a work in progress of course, but know that we are more than happy to work through this and come to a new development.

Thank you,

Sho

As some of you may recall, I am a representative of several groups from the Pleiadian star cluster. I would share today some views on Communications as our ties with humanity grow closer.

First, I would assure you that behind and beyond all outward appearances, from our vantage point, a new and better civilization is rapidly forming as more and more people awaken to the new consciousness that is spreading throughout your world. This new awareness is at a higher frequency. It is opening a path for your planet to evolve, as all planets do, and to rediscover lost parts of its destined plan through that awakening process.

The early ones are seeking to anchor it in thought and wise action. And the New Time is offering the chance for all to play a part in its birthing. The scope of this transition is not simply another concept for the mind to toy with. It requires a leap in consciousness to grasp that this is the next rung of human evolution.

This is why I encourage you to explore your mental faculty known as intuition. You can reach out through meditation or any form of contemplation. You can pay attention to your dreams, for they communicate subtle insights. However it best works for you, open yourself to insights for creating a better world around you. Articulate them when they come. Communicate your vision to others. Dare to aspire, singly and together, and see what happens.

We, your star brethren since the dawn of time, know what you are going through, and, alongside the Masters, your own planetary elders, we support your trials and discoveries. We cheer you on, like a good family supports its children. And even though perhaps not so brave or so far advanced, your "real life" friends and family will know intuitively that you are on to something new, something different, something more promising maybe, and will begin to wonder for themselves what that change for the better could be....

But beware – life intervenes. There will always be those crying, "Don't rock the boat." The status quo will fight tooth by claw to protect its rule over "reality," and even some aspect of your own consciousness wants to keep you in the known zone, the mundane, the routine ... the comfortable and

It is the chief role of your accumulated conditioning – from your societies, your cultures, your families, your schools and sometimes even your own lower nature – to lull you into compliance and submission to “what is.” I submit that one of your biggest challenges is to overcome these mindsets and to break free of the inappropriate fears that no longer serve you. What do you have to lose?

Much of the physical infrastructure of current world society is breaking down. Witness the “out of order” signs everywhere you look. But at the same time, many new discoveries are right around the corner, including startling innovations in physics, engineering and medicine that are still below the radar of the general public. We are inspiring many of these developments.

We bid you to be open and move swiftly through your current troubles and discomfort. Spiritual tension is required for all great leaps forward. Accept this mystery and work with it. You will the sooner break through into the new era of light.

The human family is now engaged in a perilous but exciting transition. We, your star families, are here and itching to come closer yet, to share with you our gifts of wisdom and knowledge. Can you hear us knocking at the door?

Your friend,

Sartarius
