

A Message for Lightworkers

I have been watching and observing and am excited about how a plan has been laid out and is coming together on various planes of consciousness. Some activities have as yet not materialized fully on the physical plane. However, I can tell you that I am very pleased at the work that has been done and without much delay. There have been developments that now allow us to proceed with the work at my level or what you may call the higher etheric levels.

You must understand that at these different levels of consciousness we cooperate, but this involves more than what the word cooperation means at your dense level. At my level, it encompasses realignments and setting up new energy or vortices so that there is an alignment of correct energies that can support activities at your level of dense reality. It is about an expansion of consciousness so that we do not have the pain of individual notes that lack harmony, but now actually have the bringing of individual notes into a cooperating state that produces harmony even at the your dense level of activity. Thus, for the first time on this planet, it is beginning to sound cosmically beautiful as increasing groups of notes come slowly into cosmic harmony.

I have not heard this harmony in the complexity available today at my level of frequency. This harmonization is like singing together where all is in tune and all is beautiful because all is in harmony. We have a way to go before we reach the point where, in the dense level, humans can hear and experience this harmony. What I am saying is that I see, hear, feel this harmonization already. It is like going to human events where a melodic form of energy is produced and you feel good hearing the sound.

Humanity is ready to move on even if the change may come with some bitterness in the beginning. Nevertheless, it is a great gift to be able to walk into this new world of harmonization because as it works its way into the dense world, it will clear the air and make all dense things elevated so that the disharmonies will melt away. The new energy will come in and slowly take over what used to be disharmony.

It is not easy to explain these things but let us say that up at the Shamballa level, we can already feel the beginning of a new tune. The energies are no longer as conflicting as in times gone by. Even the slightest lifting into this new harmony is enough to start the process of integration into our world.

That is my view on what I sense, I feel, see, hear, or however you would like to relate this to your human body. It is different even in this infant stage. I welcome this new energy. Once humanity gets a fuller taste of this energy, you will never want to go back to the old ways. There is a new light and I see the activity taking place now as truly extraordinary and truly Earth-changing.

I simply wanted you to know this and how I relate to this new beginning. My colleagues and I note this change and it is a wonderful experience to sense this new change. It gives me great pleasure to tell you this, even if in human language it is not easy to express this new energy. Let us say simply that I am greatly relieved and pleased with developments and I thank all in the Community of Masters, the Off-Earth Allies and those humans who are already involved and agreed to form this new relationship.

I encourage you to lift yourselves up. Do not focus on the past path but rather look upward into a new, wonderful world. It will give you strength and energy that is very much needed at this time.
